THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

Colonel Tom Florence has turned teetotaler.

General Sheridan is a correspondent and warm friend of President Juarez.

Pig fights form a new branch of sporting in California.

Elihu Burritt is to edit a new London magazine, called Fireside Words.

Butler unbottles himself at Oswego next Tuesday.

Leonard W. Jerome has recovered $400,000 of the $800,000 which he sunk in Pacific Mail.

The Round Table suggests the names of General Hancock and Charles O'Conor for President and Vice President.

Governor Fenton has appointed Judge Woodruff of New York to fill the vacancy in the Court of Appeals.

Sadai, the beautiful daughter of Hon. John P. Stockton, died a few days ago at Trenton, New Jersey.

About two thousand dollars was collected in St. Patrick's church, Montreal, for the Pope.

Miles O'Reilly (Charles G. Halpine), is not yet forty, has deep shoulders, a good head, and light brown hair.

The dogs in Palmer, Massachusetts, are enjoying the hydrophobia, even at this unusual season.

General Kilpatrick, Minister to Chili, will resign and return home, it is reported, in June next.

That smart little virago, Anna Dickinson, has 162 lecture appointments. She declined 300 more. She is very much "engaged."

Sir Minister Thornton not only occupies the shoes of Sir F. Bruce, but his house and furniture in Washington.

Lawrence Barrett has arrived in New York from England, and will leave at once for California, to play an engagement.

Dickens declined church-going at the Hub—the Mobile Advertiser suggests because he is uninterested in American politics.

"Old Paddy Smith, the milkman," of Cairo, is dead. He had supplied the place with milk since its first settlement.

Susan B. Anthony's new paper, the Revolution, just issued, demands equal pay to women for equal work, and educated suffrage, irrespective of color or sex.

The winter meeting of the Metairie Jockey Club terminated Monday. The first race, a dash of four miles, for a purse of $1,000, six entries, was won by Veto.

A student in Pennock; Academy, Fisherville, New Hampshire, son of a Philadelphia clergyman, has been arrested for setting fire to the institution, and has pleaded guilty.

Richard O'Gorman lectured, recently, at Troy, New York. In retiring from the stage he fell into a trap, and barely escaped serious injury.

The Chicago Times says "a great many people in this country will be sorry to learn that Brownlow's health has improved since his return to his home in Knoxville."

Greeley says he gave his heart and soul to the Clay canvass of 1844, whereupon the Boston Post says this is the reason he has been destitute of both ever since.

The Vicksburg (Mississippi) Herald thinks the planters of Mississippi cannot afford to pay laborers more than five dollars a month during the coming year.

The United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida has for its jury thirteen whites and twenty-six blacks. The grand jury consists of three whites and nine blacks.

A correspondent from Huntsville, writes that last week a Southern savings bank, established by negroes, collapsed because the depositors withdrew all the funds to attend the circus.

John Logan got mad at an article in the Cairo Democrat, threw the paper on the floor and spat on it. The Democrat says this is proof that he can't expectorate as a gentleman.

Since the late election in Boston the prohibitory liquor law has been practically a dead letter. No bar or drinking saloon in Boston but is openly selling liquor and doing a large business.

A company in the western part of the State of North Carolina is engaged in getting out white oak pipe and hogshead staves, which are shipped to Europe, and find it a profitable business.

It is understood that both Judge Curtis and Judge Abbott decline to be candidates for the Chief Justiceship of Massachusetts. They are making four times the money by their law practice that they would receive in that office from the State.

No member of Congress who voted for impeachment called upon the President New Year's day, while only ten Senators paid him the respect of a formal call. These were Messrs. Johnson, Sherman, Doolittle, Morgan, Dixon, Morrill, Fessenden, Cole, Corbett and Morton.

James H. Gregory, the Cleveland photographer who, some weeks ago, murdered a young girl and afterwards committed suicide, worked as a carriage maker for Raymond, Stranton & Co., of Grand Rapids, Michigan, three years ago, robbed his employer of $1,300, and then fled the State.

The Quincy (Florida) Commonwealth learns there have been several instances of lawlessness among the negroes at Concord, in that county. A lady was knocked down on the road and violated by a negro, and shooting is quite prevalent. A detachment of soldiers has been sent there.

Mason Beach, the conductor of a material train on the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas railroad, employed in the reconstruction of that road west of Front Royal, in an altercation with a laborer named Arrington, was struck on the head with a piece of wood with such violence as to cause his death.

The Independent comes out with the name of Theodore Tilton at its head as editor. Tilton has edited this paper for years, but as some of his western friends have been circulating the report that he was about to retire and give his time to the lyceum, this method is taken of silencing such rumors.

A number of prominent Chicago men have been victimized by a woman in Montreal, who sent to each one an artfully written letter, as though by mistake she was writing to an English nobleman, whose beautiful cousin and cast off she pretended to be—all sent her money to come on with.

John Montgomery, colored, has been convicted by military commission of removing a rail on the South Carolina railroad last October, and sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor. The major general commanding has commuted the sentence to three years' imprisonment at hard labor at Fort Macon.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer writes: "Any person who has a capital C in his name cannot be President of the United States. See the number of great statesmen who have been beaten as candidates: George Clinton, Charles C. Pinckney, De Witt Clinton, William H. Crawford, Henry Clay, Lewis Cass, John C. Fremont, John C. Breckinridge, George B. McClellan, (and other names,) John C. Calhoun, Simon Cameron, J. J. Crittenden, S. P. Chase and others."

The Pope has conferred on General Kanzler, as a reward for his services during the late campaign, the cross of the order of Pius IX, and an annuity of 2,000 francs.

A "perambulist," in Cheyenne, attempted to walk seventy-five consecutive hours without food or sleep, but became delirious at the end of fifty hours, and was compelled to quit.

Du Chaillu, after describing the laborious process by which native Africans obtain fire in rubbing pieces of dry wood together, depicts their terror and astonishment at seeing him ignite a phosphorus fusee.

Rev. Mr. Pennefather, an Episcopal Minister of London, stated recently "that not less than eleven hundred clergymen, of the church by law established, are praying for Union with Rome."

Colonel Bowie, the newly elected Governor of Maryland, is a prominent agriculturist, a great breeder of cattle, and famous for raising horses, of which he has one hundred, old and young, on his splendid farm of one thousand acres.

The Atlanta Opinion, a Radical sheet, denounces the negro Bradley, member of the Reconstruction Convention, and calls loudly for his arrest. It says he has become a downright pest and nuisance, and his insolence and bullyism has rendered his arrest necessary.

Major Millinger, from Pennsylvania, tried three years of existence under Brownlow, in Tennessee, but finally succumbed, and last week blew out what brains the constant contemplation of Brownlow had left him.

A correspondent writing from Hartford, Connecticut, to the Boston Advertiser, says that he is enabled to state positively that General McClellan has received a definite offer of the position of civil engineer on an important railway work in Paris, at a salary of 100,000 francs a year. He will probably accept the offer.

Two more parties of English and Scotch immigrants arrived in Lynchburg, Virginia, under the auspices of the Virginia Immigration Society. They consisted of farm laborers, mechanics and domestics. Homes were provided for them in advance by the officers of the society. More are expected to arrive in a few days.

A London magazine recently states the income of a first class English writer at from $4,000 to $6,000. It also copies, or says it copies, a list of "salaries of American editors," from a trans-atlantic paper," among which are William Cullen Bryant, $81,000; Frank Leslie, $91,000, and Horace Greeley, $87,000.

A nice little speculation of the St. Louis police has just come to light. They have been levying one hundred dollars a month upon a number of gambling houses, under promise of immunity from arrest. The gamblers for some months have paid this "license," but last week determined to discontinue it, and were pounced upon and gobbled up. Hence this expose.

A remarkable medical discovery has recently been made in the treatment of deafness, by Professor Scott, of the New York Medical University, by which the most apparently hopeless cases are radically cured. The method consists in introducing atomized Oxide of Phenyl directly into the cavity of the tympanum. No unpleasant sensations are produced, and a feeling of clearness seems to follow the application.

The New York Citizen asks for information as follows: "The World, of yesterday, in its column of personal gossip, says: 'Lucille Western is in town, and fattening.' Will the World explain itself? Is the 'fattening' of a permanent or transient character? As Miss Lucille has to travel extensively on her exquisite figure, we hope she may yet be delivered from the danger now threatening to impair her charms."

The Rice Hope plantation, St. John's, Berkley, near Charleston, South Carolina, containing 1,700 acres, was recently sold at auction for $21,500, to Mr. H. Middleton. This is the largest sale of real estate that has taken place in that vicinity for many months, and the price realized is said to be remarkably good for the times.

The State, Federal and military authorities have mixed in Florida. The United States Marshal took possession of the Alabama and Florida railroad. Judge Bush, of the Circuit Court of Escambia county, contending that his court had charge of the matter, made the Marshal release it. General Seymour then issued an order restraining the action of Judge Bush.

Mr. Abram S. Cohen, a well known member of the press, died at his residence in New York, Sunday, from a fever which he had contracted on a recent visit to Mobile. He was the original proprietor of the Jewish Record, and had something to do with the New York Transcript when it was first established. At the time of his decease he was the law reporter for the Evening Express.

Greeley's last instalment of his "Busy Life" is devoted wholly to Margaret Fuller, and therein Mr. Greeley quotes a remark of her cousin Channing, after a conversation with Margaret in 1841, expressing, as H. G. says, with great "delicacy" the idea that behind the female book-worm there was a true, warm woman. Whereupon H. G. says: "If I had attempted to say this, I should have somehow blundered out that, noble and great as she was, a good husband and two or three bouncing babies would have emancipated her from a great deal of cant and nonsense."

Hon. A. H. H. Stewart, of Virginia, in a letter to the committee on the celebration of the 8th of January, declines attending, saying his people were under military rule, and must speak with bated breath; that although elected by acclamation to Congress, he was denied admission, while Virginia, the proud old mother of patriots, was unrecognized save as Military District No. 1; and that while Virginia mourns I cannot be comforted—while the cypress encircles her brow, I cannot twine the myrtle around her brow. He concluded by saying that the signs of the times are that a magnanimous people will strike the chains from the limbs of his people, who will then offer hearty tribute and gratitude to the Conservatives and Democrats who set them free.

Pugilistic.

A pugilistic entertainment was given in New York, Friday night, at the Casino, formerly a church. The greatest attraction was O'Baldwin, the "Irish Giant," and the receipts were over $2,400. The New York World describes O'Baldwin as follows: "This man, in his square, turned joints and stretch of limb, looks like a hero of the Iliad rather than a modern prize fighter. Six feet six inches, shoulders like the stern of a yacht, a chest as deep as a cask of Malmsey, the ribs bursting out from the middle of his chest like the ribs of a newly laid keel, hips to sustain the shock of a dozen ordinary men, an exceedingly long, hard and sinewy arm, legs bent from the loins like young trees, laughing, yet fiery, deep brown eyes, swarthy eyebrows, a close cut, massive head and a bristling, black moustache. Carlyle would have admired this strong man as a hero, and given him worship if he could only see him spar. A tremendous Celt, one of Ossian's chiefs, to delight in skulls and drinking cups, and mighty horns of mead. The manner in which he slings out that fearful left arm of his, smiting the cheek and chest of Jem Dunn, that gentleman keeping at a respectful distance all the time, is wonderful; when he takes a step back to avoid the puny dash of Jem Dunn, he covers the twelve-foot stage with his mighty limbs, and strides across again to dash his left glove in Dunn's face with such irresistible force that, were the hand bare that gave the blow, Mr. Dunn's features would certainly be left in a state of cranberry jam. Harry Hill introduces the writer to Mr. Mike McCoole as we leave the hall, and that gentleman, who is six feet one inch high, and weighs 246 pounds, states that he never saw a "better big man, or a better left hand in his life," and Harry Hill also thinks that the O'Baldwin would make an excellent "two-'anded man if he wanted to."

FINANCES.

The Different Plans Suggested as a Solution of the Problem.

From a Careful Compilation by the New York Post.

As the discussion of our financial problems is likely to occupy a large share of the attention of Congress after the holiday recess, we have thought it useful to bring together synopses of the several schemes that have fallen under our eye. It is, we admit, not a little unjust towards the authors of them to present these mere skeletons of reform, without the flesh and blood of comment by which they are rounded out and made full. But readers accustomed to the meditation of such subjects will soon discover for themselves the reasons of the various propositions.

MR. M'CULLOCH'S PLAN.

The Secretary's general policy seems to include—

First—The funding or payment of the balance of interest bearing notes, and a continued contraction of the paper currency.

Second—The maintenance of the public faith in regard to the funded debt—that is, the payment of it according to the intent and understanding of the original contract.

Third—The collection in the Treasury of a large reserve of gold, as a means of paying off the non-interest bearing notes.

Fourth—The liquidation of the debt by a large annual payment, which will extinguish it in the course of a short period of time.

Fifth—The issue of bonds to be known as the consolidated debt of the United States, bearing six per cent. interest, and having twenty years to run, into which all other obligations of the Government shall, as rapidly as possible, be converted; one-sixth part of the interest at each semi-annual payment to be reserved by the Government in lieu of taxes, or paid over to the States according to their population, as a means of return to the payment of specie.

MR. WALKER'S PLAN.

First—The issue of a foreign loan for $250,000,000, at six per cent. interest, made payable at the foreign capitals, according to the foreign denominations of pounds, francs, thalers, etc.

Second—A constant reduction of the debt by the payment of a small instalment, say of $1,000,000 the first year, $2,000,000 the second, $3,000,000 the third, and so on until the whole should be extinguished.

Third—An immediate resumption of specie payments, i. e., we suppose, as soon as the foreign loan shall have been taken, or is in a fair way to be taken.

Fourth—An immense and instant reduction in the amount of our taxation by the reduction of our expenditures. Our whole annual expenditure, exclusive of interest on the public debt, ought not to exceed $100,000,000 a year. Inclusive of interest the whole expenditure would be $244,000,000 a year.

Fifth—To conform to this reduced expenditure he would (1) revise the tariff so as to go back to the system of 1846, with some minor changes; (2) confine the excise duties to malt and spirituous liquors, wines and tobacco, abolishing all other internal taxations; and (3) increase the tax upon the national banks by imposing in addition to the taxes now levied upon them, which yield $8,000,000, a tax to consist of one half their profits over seven per centum. But the restrictive feature of the bank act should be removed, and all persons or corporations complying with the laws of Congress, be permitted to establish banks, of which the reserves should be specie, not legal tenders.

MR. MORRILL'S PLAN.

First—It proposes to direct the Secretary of the Treasury, on and after July 4, 1869, to pay in coin all United States notes not bearing interest, commonly called legal tender notes, which may be presented for payment at the Treasurer's office in Washington, or such other places as may be designated by him, of which public notice shall be given.

Second—It provides that, until January 1, 1869, whenever there shall be in the Treasury (after paying the interest and coupons falling due on the 1st of January and July of each year, and deducting gold certificates of deposit) any excess of coin above $75,000,000, the Secretary of the Treasury shall, within thirty days after January 1 and July 1, respectively, sell the same in such manner as in his judgment will best promote the public interest, and may receive in payment United States notes, national bank notes, compound interest notes and three per cent. certificates.

Third—It provides that all national banks having on hand less than twenty per cent. in specie of their respective capitals shall hereafter, and until July 1, 1869, keep and hold, in coin, all interest received on United States bonds deposited by them with the Treasurer of the United States; but this is not to be construed as adding anything to the amount of the reserve now required to be held by these banks; and that on and after July 1, 1869, all national banks shall be required to redeem and pay, in coin, on demand, all their bills issued as currency of the denomination of five dollars and under, when presented at their counters, and all bills of a higher denomination either in coin or in legal tender notes; and any bank failing to comply with these provisions is to be deemed to have forfeited its charter, and the Controller of the Currency is to take proper proceedings against it, and, in lieu of it, to authorize new national banks with an equal amount of capital, to be located in such States as may have less than their due proportion of the whole amount now authorized by law.

PLAN OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

That able and leading journal of the West, the Chicago Tribune, suggested some time since:

First—Let Congress repeal the act allowing the Secretary of the Treasury to destroy four millions a month of legal tender notes.

Second—Let Congress enact that greenbacks shall be convertible into ten-forty bonds at the pleasure of the holder.

Third—Let Congress enact that any class of bonds may be converted into greenbacks, dollar for dollar, at the pleasure of the holder.

Fourth—Let the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to purchase five-twenties at their market price, and issue ten-forties in equal amount to those who demand bonds for greenbacks, and also to give ten-forties in exchange for five-twenties on demand of the holder.

Fifth—Let Congress enact that the surplus revenue in the Treasury shall, each month, be applied in the purchase of ten-forty bonds at their market price.

Sixth—Let Congress charge the banks for the privilege of their circulation two and a half per cent. per annum in gold, to be deducted from the interest on the bonds deposited with the Bank Controller for the redemption of their notes. Let those banks which refuse to pay this tax surrender their circulation to the Government; the same to be given to new banks in the South and West in those States which are short of their pro rata proportion of banking capital, and if there be no applicants on these terms, let the Government fill the vacuum with greenbacks.

PLAN OF SOUND CURRENCY.

A correspondent of the Evening Post, signing himself "Sound Currency," offered the following suggestions:

First—Replace the national bank circulation with legal tender notes as rapidly as possible. There will then be but one paper currency.

Second—Fund all such parts of the national debt as can in any form perform any of the functions of money.

Third—Gradually contract the legal tender currency until specie flows into circulation. This will occur when the paper currency shall be reduced from $700,000,000, as at present, to $350,000,000.

Fourth—Let Congress order the Secretary of the Treasury to arrive at this reduction on the 1st January, 1872.

Fifth—Let Congress further order the Secretary to so govern himself that upon that day there shall be specie in the vaults of the Sub-Treasury to the extent of one-third of the amount of legal tender notes which shall then be in circulation. If the circulation be $350,000,000, that he hold a reserve of $116,000,000 in coin.

Sixth—Let Congress declare that on and after the 1st of January, 1872, greenbacks shall no longer be a legal tender, and shall be receivable for all public dues, and be convertible into gold at the pleasure of the holder, at the Sub-Treasuries of Washington, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans.

Seventh—Establish a Board of Currency, to consist of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Controller of the Currency, the Chairman of the Committee of Finance of the Senate, the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means of the House, and a treasurer, who shall be elected by the other members.

Eighth—Create by law an issue of one hundred millions of interest bearing bonds of the United States, and deposit the same with the aforenamed Board of Currency, to be sold by them in the open market, whenever the specie reserve in the vaults of the sub-treasuries shall fall below ten per cent. of the amount of paper afloat; and to be repurchased whenever the said reserve shall rise above that sum.

Ninth—The banking institutions of the country being thus deprived of the profit from circulation, the taxes imposed upon them in consideration thereof to be withdrawn, and all usury laws be repealed by act of Congress, seven per cent. per annum being declared to be the legal rate of interest where no contract is made.

MR. VAN BUREN'S PLAN.

Mr. Van Buren has made no plan, as a whole, but as a mode of reaching specie payment, he has suggested that laws be passed by Congress—

First—Forbidding any contraction of the currency, and not enlarging it.

Second—Forbidding sales of gold out of the Treasury.

Third—Suspending the payment in gold of the interest on the debt for two years; paying to the public creditors, for the two years, seven and three-tenths in paper instead of six per cent. in coin, and six and a quarter in paper instead of five in coin.

Fourth—Allowing one-half of every payment of duties at the Custom House to be made in greenbacks, or, for that matter, national bank notes, taken at par with gold; these notes not to be cancelled, but to be paid out again in Government expenditures.

This would, Mr. Van Buren argues, leave the Treasury a clear income, in gold, of $60,000,000 to $90,000,000—insuring, with the $80,000,000 now on hand, a total reserve, at the end of two years, of from $200,000,000 to $260,000,000. With this, redemption of the $400,000,000 of legal tender notes could be maintained. It would, therefore, at once become certain that two years hence, if not before, these notes would be equal to coin.

PLAN OF E. A.

Our correspondent, "E. A.," in a letter to Charles Sumner, which we published lately, proposes—

First—To legalize all contracts made in gold at once.

Second—To authorize the establishment of specie banks, free from the trammels of the usury laws.

Third—The sale of $4,000,000 per week of ten-forty bonds and the like, said sale to begin after July 1, 1868.

Fourth—An enactment that on or after the 1st of July, 1870, gold coin shall be the only legal tender.

PLAN OF THE SENATE'S FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Mr. Sherman, Chairman of the Committee of Finance of the United States Senate, has reported a bill, which—

First—Authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue registered or coupon bonds of such denominations as he shall prescribe, payable, principal and interest, in coin, and bearing interest at six per centum; such bonds to be payable forty years from date, redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the Government, after ten years, to be issued to an amount sufficient to cover all outstanding or existing obligations of the United States, to be disposed of on such terms, not less than par, as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem best; and be exclusively used in taking up the existing securities of the United States.

Second—It provides for the entire exemption of these bonds—to be known as the consolidated debt of the United States—from taxation, whether by State, municipal or other authority; but in consideration of such exemption the Treasurer of the United States shall reserve one-sixth of the interest, which shall form a special fund, one-half to be distributed among the several States in proportion to their population, and the remaining half to be applied to the payment of the national debt.

Third—It substitutes for the sinking fund as provided for by laws now in force, the plan of appropriating yearly a sum which includes the amount necessary for the payment of the interest and maturing debt, and one half the reserved tax as aforesaid, to the reduction of the public debt in such manner as may be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, or as Congress may hereafter direct.

Fourth—It provides that the bonds known as the five-twenty bonds shall, at the expiration of five years from their date, at the option of the holder, be changed for the bonds authorized by this act; and such as are now redeemable shall be presented for exchange on or before the 1st of November next, and not thereafter, the residue to be presented on or before the expiration of five years from their date, and not thereafter; and such exchange shall be made at such places and under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

Fifth—It provides that the holder of any lawful money of the United States to the amount of one hundred dollars, or multiples of one hundred dollars, may convert the same into a bond for an equal amount, the notes so received to be held in the treasury as a part of the reserve already provided for. The holder of any of the five-twenty bonds, or of the bonds contemplated by this act, may demand their redemption in lawful money of the United States. The Treasurer shall redeem the same in lawful money unless the amount of United States notes then out standing shall be equal to $400,000,000; but such bonds shall not be so redeemable after the resumption of specie payment. The Secretary of the Treasury, in order to carry out the foregoing provision, is required to maintain in the treasury a reserve of not less than $50,000,000 of lawful money, similar in all respects to the United States notes authorized by law, provided the same shall not at any time exceed $400,000,000, in order to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem the securities of the United States held abroad.

Sixth—It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds payable, principal and interest, in coin, in Frankfort or London, bearing interest at the rate of four and a half per centum per annum, payable semi-annually at a rate of exchange equivalent to five francs per dollar; such bonds payable in forty years and redeemable twenty years from date, at the pleasure of the United States, in coin, at a like rate of exchange, and to be issued to an amount not exceeding $500,000,000, to be exchanged for an equal amount of five-twenty bonds, or disposed of on such terms not less than par in lawful money, as the Secretary may deem best, but the expense of the sale or exchange of said bonds shall not exceed the difference between the said rate of exchange and a market rate of exchange on London or Frankfort.

SENATOR HENDERSON'S PLAN.

The following is a synopsis of a bill to be introduced at an early day by Senator Henderson, of Missouri, of the Finance Committee, as a substitute for Senator Sherman's bill:

First—To consolidate the national debt in a long loan, principal and interest payable in gold, the interest not to exceed 3½ per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, to be exempt from all taxation.

Second—All national banks now having bonds filed with the Treasurer to secure circulation shall, within twelve months substitute the new or consolidated bonds, or have their circulation withdrawn.

Third—To so amend the national banking law that not exceeding 75 per cent of the par value of bonds shall be given to any bank; also to repeal the limitation of three hundred millions of circulation to the national banks, so as to make banking as free as any other business, subject to such new guards and constructions as may be provided by law.

Fourth—To provide for the very gradual withdrawal of the United States notes known as "greenbacks," so as to enable the national banks gradually to supply themselves with coin, preparatory to the resumption of specie payment.

Fifth—To constitute a financial board, composed of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Controller of Currency and others, to be appointed by law, to determine the mode, manner and time of withdrawing the greenbacks, and with power, also, in case of great commercial distress or money panic, to supply the banks, on deposit of bonds as collaterals, with legal-tender Treasury notes to a certain amount, not exceeding (say) fifty millions.

Sixth—To remove internal taxes from all articles of manufacture except whisky and tobacco, and to provide new means for the collection of the taxes on these articles. To continue the income and stamp taxes, license taxes, and tax on railroad and steamboat receipts, and some others, and in a large measure to abandon the present expensive system of tax collection.

A Wail from New England.

Senator Sprague's speech in the Senate on the cotton tax is the first wail from New England over the prostrate condition of the country financially and industrially. But it will not be the last. It is another of those evidences of retributive justice in the history of the world. "Those that live by the sword must die by the sword" it appears is also true of New England. She hoped that the results of the war would be to her increased commercial and financial, as well as political power. But what now says New England, through the mouthpiece of her manufacturing interests, Senator Sprague:

"No, sir; I am humiliated in being obliged to admit the fact that, with this poor, despised, short-stapled India cotton, a fabric is to-day produced by the skill and labor of Englishmen equal to the best fabric that American machinery has yet been able to produce. * * * The question is not whether you shall tax an existing interest, but whether cotton is an existing interest. * * * I fear that the fabric produced from the cheap cotton which is now grown in India will, in spite of all tariffs, find their way into this country, and be consumed by the American people, and then, let me ask, what will be your position in New England? * * * The Senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Wilson) tells us that we are seven times richer than we were before the war. I wish I could believe it. What have we to show for all these alleged riches? We have spent $5,000,000,000; we raised $600,000,000. We had the South before the war. Have we it any more now than we had before? Is it any more prosperous than it was before the war? Is it worth as much?"

On February 15th the Freedmen's Bureau will cease in Tennessee. Except the Superintendent of Education, all the officers will be discharged.

EDITORIAL

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD.

FRIDAY, : : : : : : : : JANUARY 10, 1868

ALMOST simultaneous with the beginning of the proceedings against the freedom of the public Press in Memphis, by means of an attachment for contempt of court issued by one Judge HUNTER against the proprietors of the AVALANCHE, a case was going on in England involving similar principles, which the Court of Queen's Bench and a special jury decided promptly upon the side of the Press, and against the assumption of authority to stifle its free utterances and contract its legitimate power to criticise official actions, and hold to public view the dishonest course of official men. The New York Herald's London correspondent, under date of December 21, 1867, furnishes the facts of the case and the conclusions of the Court and jury. It appears that a Mr. RIGBY WASON went before Parliament with a petition in which he asserted that a former political opponent, Sir FITZR'Y KELLEY, who had just been appointed Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, had, "upon the 11th of April, 1835, pledged his honor as a gentleman to the truth of that which he knew to be false, for the purpose of deceiving a committee of the House of Commons;" and he (WASON) prayed that a committee might be appointed to investigate this charge. Earl RUSSELL presented the paper. His noble brethren were quick, sharp and decisive in their condemnation of both the language and motives of the petitioner. The London Times reported the speeches. Mr. WASON sued the London Times for libel, not for libel in publishing an incorrect and garbled report, but for libel in publishing the remarks at all. The case was conducted in the Court of the Queen's Bench, the Lord Chief Justice of England charging the jury in a most lucid and exhaustive exposition of the case as presented on either side. The Chief Justice told the jury that it was shown that the report was "truthful and fair," and if truthful and fair, its publication by a newspaper was privileged. The second count complained that the London Times "falsely and maliciously" published an editorial article on the subject of the debate, and on this the Lord Chief Justice told the jury "that if they were satisfied the article was written honestly and with a desire to vindicate truth and justice they must find for the defendants." The jury found for the newspaper on all the counts. The case of the AVALANCHE is different from this one to the extent that it involved an action for a contempt of court brought by a judge because of a "truthful and fair" relation of his official conduct, whilst the English case is one of libel brought by a private individual against a public journal because of a truthful and fair report of a debate in Parliament, in which that individual [illegible] of this [illegible], however, are applicable to both cases. The Chief Justice told the jury [illegible] shown "that the report was truthful and fair, its publication was privileged." HUNTER takes the ground, as did Mr. WASON, that in making any publication, whether true or not, the AVALANCHE laid itself liable to an action of contempt against his immaculate official person. We maintain that the matter complained of was truthful and fair, and that it was a just report of his judicial action. But the Lord Chief Justice went further, and told the jury, with reference to an editorial article on the same subject, "that if they were satisfied the article was written honestly, and with a desire to vindicate truth and justice," they must find for the newspaper. Of this every one knows, even HUNTER himself, that it was a firm conviction of the truth of what we stated, and with a view of vindicating that justice which we believed he was prostituting, that induced our several publications. So that it will be seen that, independent of the panoply that the Tennessee law has erected around our rights, one the highest English tribunal, expounding the law from which our own law derives its sources, has virtually declared them to have been outraged by HUNTER'S proceedings. A singular parallel of ideas run through the brains of HUNTER and this English assailant of the freedom of the press. Mr. WASON holds a paper not to be entitled to make a fair report of the debates in Parliament. Judge HUNTER expelled our reporter from his Court and forbid any report of our trial then progressing, and only permitted him to again enter the public court room upon the condition of his promise to refrain from so doing, making the same arbitrary order with reference to the reporters of the other city journals. We have deemed it of interest to our readers to lay before them this so recent English decision, illustrating that, whilst in that monarchial country the great franchise of the Press is being vindicated by one of its most learned judicial forums, an arrogant upstart here, who would not be permitted to act in that court as one of its beadles, is endeavoring to destroy that franchise and make that estate of the country the subservient slave of his pretentious and ridiculous official person.

IN this cold, bleak, freezing and inclement weather, who is there that does not feel a sympathy for the sick poor, who are without medical attendance or medicine. God knows it almost makes one shed tears of blood for those who are poor, but still are not afflicted with bodily infirmity. But what must be the condition of the sick poor? And who is there that reflects upon it that does not regret the hasty action of the Board of Aldermen at its last meeting, in abolishing the medical dispensaries? There were but two of them, but few as there were no one can appreciate the great good they accomplished, unless he has been in actual observation of their operations. It has been our province often to have seen the relief afforded by the Beale street Dispensatory, and we have no doubt that what is true of it, is equally true as to the other. We have seen the sick and maimed who had not the means about them to buy a single pill receive the kind attention of the surgeon in charge and medicine for their relief with all the care afforded the most rich and influential patient. It is said that this thing can be accomplished by having prescription drug stores, prescriptions to be given to pauper patients by any regular physician. Ah! but where is the system in this? Where can the dying pauper patients get the prescription to rescue him from almost immediate death? Where can he find a physician to see his case and prescribe for him? If disposed to do so, he may not be at home, and death ensues. So general a means of relief is indefinite and not to be relied on. And in these hard times the general indisposition of physicians to wait on and prescribe for unpaying patients, for which they cannot be blamed, affords a poor security for human life from such a source. In each dispensary, however, there was a physician and a drug store. He could be found there and his druggist could be found there, and the poor knew and the poor felt the good effects of it. It was a penny wise and pound foolish policy to abolish these institutions, and we hope the Board will reconsider its action. We know its members to have been acted on in the matter by the highest considerations of public policy, and know they will be as prompt to avert an evil, as they were inadvertently the means of subserving one.

IN the AVALANCHE to-day we publish another grand order of General HANCOCK, commanding the Fifth Military District. It is as true as the needle to the great Constitutional pole, which he made his north star when he issued his order assuming command of his military district. It has the ring of the pure metal. There is no shrinking from the vigorous and great principles which he enunciated should be the basis of his military administration. There is no abatement in the patriotic zeal with which he signalized his advent to New Orleans. He takes everything in the order of its coming, and applying to it the high standard of the Constitution, approves or casts it off, as it consists or inconsists with that foundation-stone of the Government. He cuts the Gordian knot with his sword, with the alacrity of the soldier, and makes great military power the active agent for the destruction of military despotism and the restoration of peace in a much abused and heart sick country. Such are the characteristics of the order of General HANCOCK, which we publish to-day, declining an intervention to effect the purposes of certain litigants in the civil courts of Louisiana and Texas.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, January 9.

In the Senate, a number of petitions of no general interest were presented and received.

Mr. Sherman, from the Committee on Finance, reported the House bill to prevent frauds in the revenue tax from distilled spirits, with an amendment, striking out the words "in bond," which seemed to limit the operations of the bill as to distilled spirits of class "B," or the second class. The amendment was agreed to and the bill was passed.

Mr. Wilson presented a petition from several members of the Alabama Convention, for the removal of Governor Patton, on account of disabilities. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Williams, from the Committee on Finance, reported, and moved for an indefinite postponement of the resolution for the conversion of registered bonds into coupon bonds. Agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Morton, the Senate took up his resolution to instruct the Judiciary Committee to report a bill abolishing the existing State governments in the Southern States, and provide provisional governments instead.

Mr. Frelinghuysen moved an amendment, referring the resolution to the Judiciary Committee, with authority to report such bill.

Mr. Morton urged the necessity of such legislation, in view of the course of General Hancock and other recent occurrences now occupying the attention of the Senate.

The question was on the amendment "that after the passage of the act, the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel notes should be suspended."

Mr. Sherman advocated the bill, as it would satisfy the public mind that no further contraction would be made, and the Secretary of the Treasury's discretionary power should be removed, and the matter placed on the firm basis of Legislation.

Mr. Henderson followed in advocacy of the bill.

Mr. Morton favored the bill on the ground that more currency was required for the business of the country. He thought that 1871 would be time enough to resume specie payments, and gold and silver would then simply add to the volume of currency, and he was opposed to any further contraction before that time.

Mr. Howe, in the course of a lengthy argument against contraction, said that the United States, like Micawber, had given their I O U, and thereby doubters like him had considered their debts honorably discharged. The only difference was, that Micawber could not enable his creditors to circulate his paper, and the United States could. (Laughter.)

It being evident that no vote would be reached to-day, the Senate went into executive session, and soon afterward adjourned.

In the House, Mr. Eggleston offered a resolution instructing the Secretary of War to cause an examination of the Ohio river bridge at Louisville, by a corps of engineers, as it was currently reported that the bridge was being constructed in violation of the act of February 17th, 1865. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Ingersoll tried to offer a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to the appointments of Inspectors and Revenue agents, who appointed them, and on whose recommendation, but Mr. Schenck objected.

The joint resolution instructing the President to intercede with Queen Victoria for the release of Father McMahan was passed unanimously; also the joint resolution of the same nature in relation to Colonels Warren and Nagle, and Robert Lynch, of Milwaukee.

Mr. Schenck, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported a joint resolution for a commission of five persons by the Secretary of the Treasury, to examine all mechanical contrivances for measuring and ascertaining the productiveness of articles purposed for distillation, subject to the tax; the commission to report to Congress, through the Secretary of the Treasury, with such recommendations as they may deem proper, by the 15th of February, and pending their action all work on the construction of meters shall be suspended.

Pending its consideration, the Senate amendment to the House bill in reference to bonded warehouses was concurred in.

The consideration of the joint resolution was then resumed, Mr. Schenck advocating it and Mr. Logan following, sustaining him, and alluding to the Metropolitan Revenue Board, he said it was a dishonest and corrupt machine from head to foot, and he did not care how high the President or Secretary of the Treasury might stand, they were dishonest themselves, or else so ignorant that they could not tell when a fraud was committed. He exonerated Commissioner Rollins from dishonesty, but would notify him that unless he reported those men whom he (Logan) had signified to him as dishonest, he would denounce him from his seat in the House, and continued in the same strain, bitterly denouncing the President and his appointments.

The debate was continued at some length by Messrs. Logan, Kerr, Munger and VanWyck.

The special order of the day being the bill to prevent a further contraction of the currency, it was then taken up.

Finally, Mr. Schenck moved the previous question and the resolution went over until to-morrow.

The Speaker presented a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury transmitting a report from the Treasurer of the United States relative to the amount of deposites in the National banks for each month from January 30, 1866, to October 31st, 1867.

Referred to the Committee on Banks, and the House adjourned.

BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, January 8.

Mr. Bowie, Governor elect of this State, took the official oath to-day, in the presence of both Houses of the Legislature, Justices of the Supreme Court and an immense assemblage of ladies and gentlemen. After this ceremony was concluded the members of the Legislature repaired to the residence of Governor Swann, where the Governor elect held a reception, at which Admiral David D. Porter and other naval officers were present, also many prominent citizens.

IMPORTANT ORDER FROM GEN. HANCOCK.

The Civil Courts Not to be Interfered with.

NEW ORLEANS, January 5.

The following order has been promulgated:

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH MILITARY DIST.,
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 1, 1868.

General Order No. 1.]

Applications have been made to these headquarters implying an arbitrary authority in the commanding General touching purely civil controversies. One petitioner solicits this action, another that, and each refers to some special consideration of grace or favor which he supposes to exist, and which should influence this department.

The number of such applications, and the waste of time they involve, make it necessary to declare that the administration of civil justice appertains to the regular courts. The rights of litigation do not depend upon the views of the General; they are to be adjudged and settled according to the laws. Arbitrary power, such as he has been urged to assume, has no existence here. It is not found in the laws of Louisiana or Texas, it cannot be derived from any act or acts of Congress, and he is restrained by the Constitution and prohibited from action in many particulars.

The Major General commanding takes this occasion to repeat that, while discharging judicial functions in civil causes, he can suffer no forcible resistance to the execution of the process of the courts.

By command. W. S. HANCOCK,
Major General Commanding.
General HARTSUFF, A. A. G.

A delegation is in Washington from Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, to lay before the President, and Howard, of the Freedmen's Bureau, a proposition to reorganize labor in the South, make it self-sustaining, and avert the horrors of starvation, with which various sections are threatened. There is a prospect that the executive committees will have plenary powers to provide work for each laborer, white and black, the planters to furnish all things necessary to the cultivation of the land, the negroes to be fed and receive one-fourth of the proceeds of the crops. The Executive Committee will be charged with the task of obtaining the necessary supplies from the North and West, for which they shall give a lien on the crop. Those who refuse to work are to be reported to the Commanding General, who will cause them to labor on the public works. The delegation contend that if the Freedmen's Bureau will co-operate, the plan can be successfully carried out, and that without it is done, thousands of persons will perish, and that ultimately anarchy will be the result. The President regards the matter as feasible.

Public Sale

OF THE

HOMESTEAD TRACT

OF

GENERAL SAMUEL J. HAYS,

At Jackson, Tennessee.

WE shall, through Messrs. ROYSTER, TREZEVANT & CO., Auctioneers, offer at public sale, upon the premises,

On Thursday, 16th Day of January,

The beautiful and valuable Homestead Tract of the late General SAMUEL J. HAYS, containing 1,150 acres of land in and immediately adjacent to the city of Jackson, Tennessee, subdivided into Lots and small Tracts, suitable for Residences and small Farms. The Mansion is one of the most elegant and spacious in Tennessee, situated on beautiful and highly ornamented grounds. The advantages of Railroad facilities from the two roads now in operation, to be increased by the Vincennes and New Orleans Air Line road, passing through Paducah and connecting with the Mississippi Central at this point, making it a center of commercial and manufacturing importance which has given vitality and growth to Jackson even under all the depressing influences which have retarded almost every other place in the South. In society and health, Jackson is notoriously one of the most attractive cities in the South.

TERMS OF SALE.—Third cash; balance in one and two years with interest, secured by trust deeds.

MULES AND CATTLE FOR SALE.

Immense Sacrifice of Property near Grenada, Mississippi.

I WILL SELL my valuable tract of Land lying in the valley of Yallabusha river, two and a half miles from Grenada, containing 1881 acres of land for Two dollars per acre; five hundred acres are cleared; good farm improvements on the place, and in better days valued at from twelve to fifteen dollars per acre. Its nearness to Grenada and the railroad makes it a commanding place. The timber on it alone, if judiciously managed, is worth three times the money.

With this place I will sell fifteen head of mules at $100 per head, making $1500, the cost of which was to me over $2500. I will also include my stock of cattle at ten dollars per head, which includes three yoke of oxen and fifteen or twenty cows. The cattle may number thirty or forty head, more or less. I will throw in all the farming tools of the place to the purchaser and one mule wagon, and several sows and pigs that may be found on the premises.

Here is a bargain. Come with YOUR MONEY, as I SELL FOR CASH, and to leave the country which has been my home for thirty years.

Trustee's Sale of Valuable Lands Near Macon, Tenn.

BY virtue of a deed of trust executed on the 5th day of October, 1861, by John Osborne to Jesse L. Harris in his lifetime, and duly recorded in the Register's office of Fayette county, Tennessee, in Book W, pages 234 and 235, for the benefit of Thomas B. Crenshaw and others; and by authority of a decree of the Circuit Court of Fayette county, rendered at its October term, 1867, by which I was appointed trustee to execute said trust, in lieu of the said Jesse L. Harris, deceased, I will expose to sale to the highest bidder for cash, at the court house door in Somerville, Tennessee, on the first Monday of February, 1868, at twelve m., the following tracts of land conveyed in said deed, to wit: One tract lying in Fayette county, Tennessee, in range 3, section 1, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the northwest corner of entry No. 44, for 200 acres, in the name of Wm Ramsey, thence south 128 poles to a gum, the southwest corner, thence west 36 poles to a maple, thence north [illegible] poles to the northeast corner of Wm. Young's 200 acres, thence west 212 poles to a white oak; thence north [illegible] poles to a stake, thence east 247 poles to Irvine's southeast corner, thence south 20 poles to a stake, elm, gum and hickory pointers, thence east 22 poles to the beginning. Also a tract of land lying in said county, granted to the heirs of Lewis Irvine, in range 3 and 4, section 1, containing four hundred and ninety-seven and a half acres, more or less, and bounded as follows: Beginning at the southeast corner of entry No. 1125 in the name of Lee Sullivan, thence west 30 poles to his southwest corner, thence south 27 poles to a stake and beech pointer marked L. S., thence north 72 poles to a white oak and hickory, thence east 237 poles to a stake, hickory, gum and black oak pointers, thence north 118 poles to a stake, white oak pointer, thence west 138 poles to the southwest corner of entry No. 44, in the name of Wm. Ramsey, for 135 acres, thence north with his line 32 poles to a stake, thence west 2 poles, sweet and black gum pointers, thence north with the said line 119 poles to a sassafras corner on line, thence west with his line 138 poles to Sullivan's corner, thence south 82 poles to the beginning, it being all the interest which the heirs of John Osborne have in the same. The foregoing description of the lands is copied from the deed of trust. The title is believed to be good, but I only convey as trustee. The right of redemption is waived by the terms of the deed.

Grand Special Scheme

OF THE

RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS

To be Drawn on about
February 15th, 1868.

UNDER the direct auspices of the following well known citizens of Memphis:

DIRECTORS:
N. CORONNA, President German National Bank;
JOHN S. TOOF, of Toof, Phillips & Co.;
W. L. STEWART, late of W. L. Stewart Bros.;
ROLFE S. SAUNDERS, U. S. Collector;
R. R. PITTMAN, of R. R. Pittman & Co.;
GEO. H. LEGUERE, of Ward & Leguere.

N. CORONNA, Treasurer.

DEPOSITORY—German Nat'l Bank.

F. Y. ROCKETT, Financial Secretary

$34,500 IN PREMIUMS.

Number of Prizes, 25

Certificates $5 Each.

A Fortune or a Homestead for $5.

Capital Prize Valued at $20,000,

Which amount has recently been offered for the Springs and grounds immediately surrounding.

PRIZE NO. 1.

The celebrated RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS, situated on the confines of Raleigh, late county seat of Shelby county, Tennessee, nine mile northwest of Memphis and two miles from Well's Station, on the Memphis and Louisville railroad. These springs are six in number, of various mineral and medicinal qualities, and are visited every summer by thousands of seekers of health and pleasure from all quarters of the country. They are within a few steps of the village of Raleigh, in a beautiful valley, and also within a few hundred feet of Wolf river, which winds around the base of the eminence on which the village of Raleigh is situated and empties into the "Father of Waters" at Memphis. Numerous remarkable cures of various diseases have been experienced by sojourners at this health inspiring retreat, and the present proprietor, Colonel J. M. Coleman, can produce hundreds of certificates of cures in cases which had been entirely given over by medical skill. The ground surrounding the Springs, and in fact the entire village of Raleigh rises to an eminence of pure air, and is as remarkable for its healthfulness as beauty of location. The Springs are in fine order, several never-failing, and are designated as follows:

Marble Spring,
Box Spring,
Magnolia Spring,
Arsenic Spring,
Sulphur Spring,
Freestone Spring.

The place has never been visited by epidemic of any kind, and peculiarly characteristic of its healthfulness is the longevity of the inhabitants. The oldest citizens of Shelby county are residents of Raleigh.

The Springs are as much resorted to by pleasure seekers as by invalids, owing to beauty of scenery and various artific[ia]l as well as natural attractions. Connected with the Springs are a Pavilion, Ladies' Bowling Alley, Rustic Arbors, Reading saloon, Gents' Bowling Alley, saloon, Billiard Room, Gymnasiums, Refreshment Tables, etc., while Wolf river affords excellent Boating and Fishing.

The grounds accompanying the Springs in the above scheme and included in the First Prize, is fifteen acres in extent, overlooking the valley and affords in addition to a magnificent site for a grand hotel and other buildings; splendid facilities for a park, promenades, etc.

An analysis of the several Springs, by distinguished medical men, shows that they are unsurpassed in mineral and curative properties by any in the United States. There is no reason then why Raleigh should not become as famous as Saratoga, Sharon or Lebanon, and as largely patronized. It needs only capital and enterprize to accomplish this end.

A charter is before the State Legislature for the incorporation of the Springs, and a movement has been inaugurated looking to a direct rail communication with Memphis.

For this prize, $20,000 was recently offered, which was declined in order that the above scheme may be fully carried out.

PRIZE NO. 2.

The elegant COUNTRY MANSION HOUSE and lot, residence of J. M. Coleman is within a few yards of the Springs. The house is in first-class order, containing ten rooms, and is beautifully embowered in shrubbery. The lot is well fenced, and ornamented with fine shade and fruit trees, and affords all necessary outhouses, cisterns, etc. It is midway between the village and Spring Valley, on the main promenade. Value, $8,000.

PRIZE NO. 3.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CASH.

PRIZE NO. 4 TO 25.

TWENTY-TWO COTTAGE LOTS, valued at two hundred and fifty dollars each. These lots are a portion of the village of Raleigh, delightfully situated, all fronting on thoroughfares, and will be drawn with the understanding that the winners shall have free access at all times to the Springs and belongings.

DETAILS OF THE DRAWING.

Six thousand and seven hundred tickets, representing the certificates issued, will be placed in one wheel, and the same number of blanks (including twenty five inscribed with names of the premiums) will be placed in another. From these wheels tickets will be drawn at the same time, and the number drawn will take the premium drawn simultaneously.

All moneys received upon the sale of these shares will be placed in the German National Bank of Memphis, and will remain there to the credit of the Association until the drawing takes place.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Our city patrons are requested not to pay any one for subscriptions to the AVALANCHE without a certificate from the office authorizing them to collect.

GALLAWAY, RHEA & CLUSKEY.

NOTICE.—The proprietors of the AVALANCHE will from this date (7th day of December, 1867) refuse to pay the individual bills of any person connected with the paper. No debts against the AVALANCHE will be paid unless they originate in the office.

THANKS.—To the Southern Express company we are indebted for late papers.

QUALIFIED.—Colonel J. L. Chandler, the newly elected Tax Collector on Privileges has qualified and taken his place.

A DIFFERENCE.—Mythology tells us that Io died of her love for Jupiter. Latterly a celebrated chemist has discovered Io-dide of Potassium.

DISCHARGED.—Squire Hall yesterday discharged Pruitt, charged with an assault, with attempt to kill, on the fireman Simonds. No prosecutor appeared against him.

LUMBER THIEF.—Sam. Kierwan, a negro, was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing lumber from the Memphis Gayoso gas company, in Fort Pickering. He will be tried to-day.

RECOVERED.—A quantity of handkerchiefs stolen from A. Just, on Front street, some time since, were recovered yesterday. There is still a lot of the same kind missing.

THE MATINEE.—Our readers will not forget that there will be a matinee at the New Memphis on Saturday afternoon, on which occasion Mr. Booth will appear in one of his best characters.

THE CIRCUS.—The procession of the circus paraded the streets yesterday, and gave an exhibition last night. The display made was good, and attracted much attention.

OLD METAL STOLEN.—A lot of old metal was stolen from J. V. Powell yesterday, consisting of old copper, lead pipe, etc. It is supposed that a man named James McMahon stole the stuff and disposed of it.

LOST HER CLOTHES.—The festive Molly Grey, of 62 Washington street, gave out about $150 worth of clothing last week to be washed to a yellow woman, who failed to return them. The police are after her.

THE CONDITION OF BURNS.—Burns the burglar, who had his eyes gouged out by McCarthy, in the Stationhouse, night before last, has irretrievably lost the use of one of them. An excision of the right eye will have to be performed; so Dr. Keller informs us.

For great bargains in fine ready made clothing, and gents' furnishing goods, go to Reed & Bro.'s, No. 15½ Jefferson street. They are making clothing to order at least twenty per cent less than any other house in the city. Call and examine their stock and see for yourselves. 3t

RUNAWAY.—A span of horses attached to a rockaway ran off on Brinkley avenue yesterday afternoon. Mr. Smith, the driver, was thrown from the vehicle and badly hurt. The horses were stopped near Adams street by a negro named Calbert. The rockaway was a complete wreck.

RUNAWAY.—A horse attached to a buggy yesterday ran off from near the post office, and dashed up Jefferson street at a fearful rate. He was finally stopped when near the bayou bridge by a negro, who led him in triumph to his owner, and received a suitable reward.

NOTICE.—The fixtures of Madame Guilmard's establishment, on Jefferson street, between Second and Third, are for sale. Any person wishing to purchase will find either the Madame or the fair Josephine ready and willing to do the honors.

The merchants, traders and speculators in general will find it to their interest to attend the administrators sale of fancy and variety goods, notions, perfumery, cutlery, etc., etc., at the auction house of A. S. Rozerson, 362 Main street. The sale is positive and without reserve, and sold by Charles Jehle, administrator of the estate of Wm. Jehle. See advertisement.

FRACTIOUS.—A man named Stiles, on Wednesday, drew a revolver in Britton's ale house, on Front street, and threatened to "clean out the house" unless he was supplied with liquor. Mr Britton knocked him down and got his revolver from him and sent for a policeman, who took him in arrest. He was brought before the police court yesterday morning, but was too drunk for trial, and the case was continued.

DULL.—Yesterday was one of the dullest days we have ever seen. It was cold, and people who were compelled to go outside hurried to their comfortable firesides as quickly as possible. There was scarcely any show of business, and the operations at the different police stations gave evidence that the cold snap had improved the morals of the city. Items were scarce and hard to be got at, and we trudged the city all day and received but little reward for our labor.

Emmons & Son, No. 10 Jefferson street and 393 Main street, have received the New York Ledger, Boston Pilot, Banner of Light, Sunday Times, Dime Illustrated, Police News, Waverly Magazine, Albion, Last Sensation, Wilkes' Spirit, New York Citizen, Harper's Bazar, LaCrosse Democrat, Chimney Corner, Saturday Night, London News, with a Christmas picture; Peterson's and Ballou's Magazine for February. Also, Diaries for 1868. They are selling very low. Now is the time to invest. Daily papers from everywhere.

ANOTHER CHANCE—$230,650 TO BE AGAIN DISTRIBUTED.—The satisfaction given by our "Holiday Drawing" induces us on the 18th of January to again place before the public the same unrivaled opportunity to gain a fortune. The capital prize of $50,000 was drawn by a citizen of Charleston, South Carolina, in our drawing of December 31st. Price of tickets as before. Wholes, $12; halves, $6; quarters, $3. Remittances to any other parties will not be invested in this lottery. Address, as usual, the authorized State Managers, Murray, Eddy & Co., Covington, Kentucky.

PERSONAL.—We regret to learn that Colonel Davis Cockrell, the popular proprietor of the Gayoso House, had a severe hemorrhage on Wednesday evening, which for a time threatened his life, but under the judicious care of Doctors Brown, Blackburn and Irwin his early convalescence is anticipated.

Our cheerful friend Captain Pete Fox, of Morgan's cavalry, is at the Gayoso, on his return to his old home in Kentucky. He has been residing in New Orleans since the war; but returns permanently to the dark and bloody ground, which reminds him of his many daring deeds during the late struggle. "The swallows homeward fly."

Major General Wm. B Bate is at the Gayoso. He will remain here with his many friends a few days, and then return to the discharge of his arduous professional duties in the Middle District. The gallant General is in good health, and still manifests that intense energy and spirit which distinguished him alike in military and civil life.

The Hon. Kenneth Raynor is at the Gayoso. We are glad to learn he will make Tennessee his future home.

Captain Hazlitt, who has been clerk in the Police Court for some time, has been appointed to the place lately vacated by Mr. Chandler in the office of the Police Commissioners.

Mr. James H. Vicker returned to Chicago last night, after an absence of some months.

We understand that Mr. Mayo will open at Indianapolis next week.

THE NEW MEMPHIS.—On the occasion of the third appearance of Booth a full house greeted him. The piece selected for the night was Bulwer's great play of Richelieu. The play, as our readers well know, is one of the finest in the whole range of the drama for artistic display. Last night the piece, until the fourth act, passed off slowly, we might say dragged. True, ever and anon, like a flash of light, the undoubted genius of Booth sent forth a gleam of brightness, carrying trembling electricity to the frames of his auditors, but if the play had stopped short at the fall of the curtain on the third act we should be compelled to pronounce the Richelieu of Booth a failure, and much below what we reasonably might have expected from the vaunted star of the present theatrical firmament, for in no single scene did he excel the modest pretensions of his modest predecessor, Frank Mayo. In the fourth act his genius asserted itself and stood forth in all its greatness—a thing unrivalled, unapproachable. No language can depict the passage of the mustering, conflicting passions over his venerable face, as he drew around Julie the circle of sacred Rome, and threatened to hurl its curse upon any one (even the crowned monarch) who should attempt to invade its precincts. Here, beyond question, he was fearfully, terribly grand, and the words came surging, hissing hot from his overcharged, proud and unbending heart, like molten lead poured upon a span of water—they touched one object but to rebound upon another with an increased and terrible force. Range the whole scope of the drama through, from the time the immortal Garrick "strutted his brief hour upon the stage" until the present day, and no such hight of dramatic art was ever reached by mortal man, as Booth overtopped in this act last night. Without fear of successful contradiction we make this assertion; but can go no further. In the other acts, except upon occasions, he was not the Booth of the fourth, and were he to throw aside the historic halo that hangs like an aureola around his name, and appear under the name of Jones, or Smith, or Brown, his Richelieu would be almost damned to everlasting fame. Then, as a fair and impartial critic, we cannot call it great, because if one great act can lend its brilliancy to the whole, why cannot four common ones impart their qualities likewise. The minor characters we must commend, because it is seldom that even Booth is better supported. The De Mauprat of Frank Roche was good; he was finely poised and carried himself remarkably well, and at times his reading smacked of an improvement which we are glad to see. A trifle tame was Anderson as Baradas, but on the whole a most creditable performance. The DeBerringhen of Ellerton was pleasing, while the Joseph of Mr. Mitchell was mysterious and reticent enough to suit even a veritable Richelieu. To-night will be repeated the Merchant of Venice, as we take it, one of Booth's best characters.

IRISH EMIGRATION SOCIETY.

Meeting of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

Interesting Proceedings on the Occasion.

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick took place on Tuesday night, and Colonel M. Magevney occupied the chair, the President being absent. After the usual preliminary business, Mr. McClure presented a specimen badge for the members of the society, which was adopted. Mr. Mulverhill submitted the following report on the subject of establishing an Irish Emigration Society, which was read and adopted:

Your committee, appointed at the last meeting of this society to report on the practicability and the best means of establishing, under the control and superintendence of the society, an "Irish Emigrant Aid Association," do now, after exchanging and harmonizing their views, make this, their report, and say:

First, That it is their opinion that the establishment of such an association is entirely practicable; and that, if established, it would prove highly beneficial to the surrounding country, to this city and to those of our race whom it might be the means of inducing and of aiding to settle around us.

Second, Your committee, though aware of the stringency of the times and the great stagnation of business, still believe it possible, through a little exertion on the part of the members of this society, to obtain all the funds that may be requisite to set up and establish this proposed association, and give it efficiency and vitality when so started. What is needed, first, is money or that which may be converted into money, and the only consideration is, how is this money to be raised?

Your committee believe that if those members of this society who are old citizens of this place, and who are well known in the surrounding country, would but interest themselves in the matter, the planters of Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas would themselves contribute largely and liberally, by voluntary donations of money and lands. The prime want of the Southern country now is that of security to person and property. The emancipation of the slaves has brought into direct and dangerous collision the black and white races, whose instincts, recollections and animosities but give point to the opposition of their interests. One of these classes has labor, the other has capital; these two aggravating exciting causes cannot but be productive, for years to come, of great disorder and confusion For these reasons, we belive the planters of the country, will, from motives of interest, give this project material help, and aid us in our endeavors by their hearty sympathy. Already many of them have made your committee most liberal and encouraging offers of land [and] money, and the newspapers hearing that this society had under deliberation the feasibility of erecting an Emigrant Aid Association in Memphis, gave us in advance their warmest support. The people, in fact need immigration. It is their only hope to get into the country honest, industrious and peaceably disposed laborers, whose influence is indispensable to their prosperity and security. The presence of these is a guarantee of peace, and at no time in the history of this country has there been so favorable an opportunity for the poor of other lands to effect a lodgment and get a permanent home in the South at so little cost and exertion as at this present time. Your committee are persuaded, that if solicited, the State of Tennessee would powerfully second the exertions of this society. She has an agent in New York city now to divert the tide of immigration to her borders, and if Irishmen are but true to themselves and their people, we believe they will be furnished whatever may be needed of land and money and influence to give vigor and efficiency to the proposed society. In our own city much may be done by means of lectures, balls, parties, etc., to raise the funds required. And your committee do not hesitate to say that if each of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick does his duty in the premises we can make this ideal projection of the present a living, efficient and active reality.

Your committee would further say, that the establishment of this enterprise should be begun at once. Now is the golden time for action to serve our people. Land and means can now be easily had, which in times of order and security we cannot hope to obtain at all, except at high prices, which perhaps we may not be able to pay. We should therefore work now.

Your committee have nothing at this time to say about the government of this proposed association. Indeed, what we do say is said in haste, and we hope the society will pardon us for our negligence.

Respectfully,
JAS. FLAHERTY,
P. J. MULVERHILL,
D. H. HAYES,
Committee.

Mr. N. M. Merriwether spoke at length on the subject, and said that he could promise them in a short time over ten thousand acres of land to aid the noble undertaking.

W. C. McClure moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Merriwether for the interest manifested by him.

Colonel McQuirk spoke at length in connection with the above subject, and offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the report of the committee, made regarding the feasibility of inviting the emigration of Irishmen to the Southern country, be handed to the Committee on Charter, in order that they may at once enter upon the duty of obtaining the same, so that our society may become a positive and permanent organization.

Adjourned to meet on Wednesday, January 15

MORE EVIDENCE.

How Justice is Administered in this City.

An Honest Card from Justice Hall.

We cheerfully publish the following from the pen of Justice Hall, and hope that his bold, outspoken words in the cause of justice will not fall upon barren ground. His experience is not isolated, but almost every magistrate in the county could detail the same did he wish to. Read it:

MEMPHIS, TENN., January 9, 1868.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: I would respectfully call the attention of yourselves and the public to one great incentive to crime in all its various phases in this, our unfortunate city. And in doing so, it is not for the purpose of placing myself in a conspicuous position before the public; but simply to vindicate myself and other Justices of the Peace of Shelby county. I refer, sirs, to the fact that in nine cases out of ten where parties have sworn out warrants against thieves, (principally negroes), and when these thieves of the very worst character, being brought before me for trial, not being ready, but asking a continuance to obtain witnesses, have been sent to jail for probably twenty-four or forty-eight hours, they are, I say, nine times out of ten released from custody by either the Judge of the Criminal Court or Judge Waldran, of the Municipal Court. How they are released it is impossible for me to state. When I send to the jail for them the jailer informs me that the parties have been released by orders from the said Judges, and that they (the said Judges) have taken the bonds. But one fact is most true, whether these bonds be good or not, the parties thus released seldom or never appear for trial, and hence go unwhipped of justice. Why these bonds (?) are so taken it is far more than I can conjecture. I am and always have been ready and willing to take bonds—when they are good. I have been a resident of the city for nearly twenty years, and as a general thing know when a bond is good and when it is not. I may say, in conclusion, these bonds are never returned to my office, as the law expressly directs.

Hoping you will excuse me for occupying so much of your valuable space,

I am, sirs, very respectfully,
JAMES HALL,
Justice of the Peace.

Life of General Robert Hatton.

This is a book from the pen of an earnest, careful and accurate author, J. V. Drake, of Lebanon, Tennessee. It gives a clear and concise history of one of the bravest and most notable men whose names were identified with the late struggle. The review refers to him in all the excellence and moral worth of his private life, and does him great justice in his public career as a statesman and general. The book is full of thrilling incidents that marked the career of the General, and it also contains many specimens of those excellent tests of the man when seen as a good son, a husband and father. His letters are certainly a most interesting feature of this biography. To the general reader the book will be found full of interesting details of the early days of the war in Virginia. To the survivors of his command the incidents of his life will prove valuable memoirs of the hardships and severe campaigning they did as soldiers. To Tennesseeans generally the book will be especially interesting, in that it records the brave deeds and courageous acts of a general whose fame is a bright adornment to the name of the State.

The book is to be sold for the benefit of the family of General Robert Hatton. It thus appeals the more eloquently to our people, to purchase it. To the great and benevolent body of Odd Fellows, it appeals for this character of support in that the General was one of its most notable members, he having been Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, and filled the lofty position with peculiar honor to himself and the order. The Congressional career of General Hatton is also carefully laid before the people, and as it was one of which any man might be proud, we need not make any further reference. C. C. Cleaves & Co., 312 Second street, corner of Monroe and Second, have the book for sale.

THE GREAT SHOW.—The materiel of this establishment arrived in town on advertised time, but owing to the inclemency of the weather it was not opened until yesterday afternoon. About noon, a grand procession was made through the city. At two o'clock the large marquee of the show was thrown open to the public, who soon filled it to its utmost capacity, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. We have no hesitation in pronouncing this circus, as a whole, the best which has visited our city for years. We must not forget to mention the performance of "Little Minnie," who is beyond all doubt the most wonderful performer of her age in the world. In the ring she is the very embodiment of childish grace, and her acts are done with a fearlessness which astonish and surprise. M'lle Pauline, than whom no better lady rider ever placed her weight upon a horse. This is her first season in this country, for she is fresh from Europe, having graduated in that great school of great artistes, the Cirque Imperiale of Paris, where she was classed as one of the most expert and fearless riders among the celebrities of that establishment. At length a successful rival has risen to dispute the world-won claims of Robinson as a bare back rider, and he is here today in Memphis, in the person of Charles Smith; and, although we are not prepared to say that he is fully his equal now, it will not be long, if he remains in practice for a year or so, before he throws him in the shade. No words of ours can tell our readers of his grace and fearlessness—he has to be seen to be appreciated. The menagerie, alone, is worth the price of admission, and no greater holiday can be given to the little ones than to take them to see the elephant and the hundred and one other animals which compose this fine collection.

While money is scarce and property a drug, we would invite the attention of those wishing to invest, to the sale to-day by Colonel Monsarrat, of a very comfortable dwelling house, situated on Second street, Fort Pickering. The grounds are spacious and the location very desirable. The property will be sold upon easy terms and for what it will bring.

Gayoso House has reduced board from $4 to $3 per day. See advertisement.

GRAND DEMONSTRATION.

Meeting at the City Hall in Regard to the Rights of Foreign-born Citizens.

Resolutions and other Interesting Proceedings.

At the City Hall, last night, a most important meeting of our citizens took place, presided over by the Mayor of our city, the Hon. J. W. Leftwich, who, on taking the chair, briefly recounted the objects of the assemblage.

On motion, Alderman Moffett was unanimously elected Secretary.

Mr. Orville Yerger made a telling speech in defense of the rights of the citizens of this country abroad. He contrasted the vigilance of Great Britain and other governments in the protection of their citizens, and the lukewarmness and indifference exhibited by the Government of the United States in reference to those who expatriated them selves in swearing allegiance to our Constitution and laws.

After the conclusion of his speech, Messrs. M. Magevney, jr., John Park, A. Hitzfeld, W. C. McClure and H. D. Hayes were appointed to draw up appropriate resolutions to press the matter upon the attention of Congress.

During the absence of the Committee several gentlemen were called upon and briefly responded.

The following letter from Colonel M. W. Cluskey, of the AVALANCHE, explaining his absence, was read:

GAYOSO HOUSE,
THURSDAY EVENING, January 9, 1868.

GENTLEMEN: I regret that the condition of my health will preclude my acceptance of the kind invitation to be present and address the meeting of adopted citizens this evening. Though not present in person I am with you in feeling. The time has arrived when some definite determination of the status of foreign born citizens of the United States traveling abroad should be concluded between this Government and the other nations of the world. The great principles of naturalization engrafted in the Federal Constitution were a mere empty and unmeaning thing if the jurisdiction of foreign nations over adopted citizens, upon one pretext or the other, is permitted to be asserted, much less maintained. The war of 1812 was fought in vain if "once a citizen always a citizen" is the international understanding of the rights and liberties of men. If I were present I would be pleased to express myself more fully. As it is, I must be content to signify my concord in the great movement of which your meeting is a part.

Respectfully, M. W. CLUSKEY.

Messrs. D. H. Hayes and others.

The Committee were not long in determining the resolutions, and reported through their chairman, Colonel M. Magevney, the following:

WHEREAS, Recent events in Europe call loudly upon the Government and the people of the United States to demand a speedy settlement of the question of the protection due from the United States to its naturalized citizens; now, therefore, to give expression to the sentiments of the citizens of Memphis, on this subject, be it

Resolved, That it is the duty of the Government of the United States to afford the same protection to her naturalized citizens that it does to citizens of those States, born within this covenant; that no other position can in justice to our naturalized citizens or with honor to our Nation or safety to our people be adopted.

Resolved, That it is the duty of our Government to recall without delay, any Minister, Consul, or other diplomatic agent of our Government who has refused or neglected to use his lawful authority for the proper protection of American citizens traveling abroad. And

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions signed by the Mayor of our city, the officers of this meeting and other citizens of Memphis, be forwarded to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and also a copy to our Representatives in Congress.

In presenting the resolutions, Mr. Magevney forcibly spoke in favor of adopting them, and said that after the contract was entered into between the Government and the foreign citizen, he was as much entitled to protection as he that was native and to the manor born. The foreigner, who had been instrumental in developing the resources of the country had the right to demand the protection of the Government which he had done so much to sustain. The Bishop of Derry had said "allegiance is only due to protection," and "when protection ceases, allegiance no longer exists. He alluded to the position of Rufus King, and the curt response of the English under Secretary. The speaker demanded that the ægis of the flag of the United States should be thrown over every citizen of foreign birth, as part of the contract entered into by the Government of the United States.

Mr. Hitzfeld followed, fully indorsing the sentiments of the former speaker, and he was followed by Mr. Mulverhill who said it was time to ask if we had a Government. The inception of this Government determined the principle of the right to expatriation. He alluded to the absence of many native-born citizens who should have been present, and urged the adoption of the resolutions, as a matter of right. He himself loved liberty. He had fought through the late war and had met on the battlefield, in opposing ranks, the green flag of Erin. But it had never been because he did not love liberty that he had opposed the Government in the struggle. Now that peace once more was restored, it was a proper time to demand, and make an issue if necessary, on the very question of protection abroad for those citizens of foreign birth. The names of DeKalb and Steuben, and LaFayette were interwoven with greatful recollections. He compared the eloquence of Ireland with that of the United States, and said it could not be confined to the limits of one country. Wherever he should go he wished the flag of liberty to protect one and all to the hour of death, wherever we might go.

Mr. Hayes was the next Speaker, and he went into the subject very forcibly, sustaining the views of the previous speakers. During his remarks he was frequently applauded.

Ex-Mayor Baugh made a few remarks, and referred to the diplomatic conduct of General Cass a few years ago. He urged that a foreign born citizen was entitled to all the rights of those native born.

Mr. T. B. Norment thought this matter should have been urged many years ago. If any foreign born citizens were not protected there was no use to be naturalized. He indorsed the resolutions, and thought they should be now adopted.

The resolutions were then unanimously adopted and the meeting adjourned.

ROBBERY.

A Man Stopped at Six O'clock in the Evening and Robbed of $150 and a Valuable Watch.

Wednesday afternoon about six o'clock Mr. John Martin, sr., who lives in Chelsea, on Fifth street, was returning home, when near the Baptist church he was encountered by three men, who garroted and robbed him of $150 in money and a watch. Mr. Martin had been in town, and was returning at the above mentioned hour, little dreaming of any harm. When near the church he noticed the three men together, but, supposing they were citizens like himself, he paid no attention to them, and allowed the men to approach him. When about in a line with him, a young man, who was apparently their leader, said "Now is the time," and immediately the three men assaulted him. In an instant he was choked into insensibility, and when he recovered, his money and his watch were gone. This is certainly a bold exploit of the knights of the road, and gentlemen traveling in the suburbs of the city after night cannot be too careful, for thousands of vagrant negroes are nightly prowling around, ready to pick up the unwary,

AFFRAY IN DYERSBURG.

Three Men Killed and a Fourth Wounded

Dyersburg, in Dyer county, Tennessee, on last Tuesday, was the scene of a terrible encounter, which resulted in the death of three men and the wounding of a fourth, and which has created an immense sensation in the neighborhood, as the parties have a large number of friends, and it was feared that further trouble would result from the occurrence. Mr. Tarkington, the sheriff of the county, attempted to arrest a man named Duncan, on the streets of Dyersburg. The latter resisted, and drawing a pistol fired, the ball severing one of Tarkington's thumbs. George Tarkington, the sheriff's son, at once drew a pistol and fired at Duncan, the ball taking effect in his body, and producing almost instant death. As soon as Duncan had fallen his son, a young man present, shot and killed young Tarkington. By this time Sheriff Tarkington, whose wounded hand had occupied his attention, seeing that his son had fallen, presented his pistol at young Duncan, fired and killed him. When the citizens, startled by the firing, reached the spot, the three men were found lying dead in the street, Tarkington being the only survivor of the conflict. This is indeed a terrible occurrence, and shows to what an alarming extent the spirit of lawlessness has been fostered in our midst.

A GANG OF DESPERADOES.

Nightly Robberies in the Very Heart of the City.

The neighborhood of Shelby street betweet Beale and Linden, has been, for some time, a dangerous place for people to pass after nightfall. There is a large pond in the neighborhood, near upon the margin of which is an old barn, which has been the resort and hiding place of a gang of desperadoes, who, nightly issuing from there, have made attempts, and in many instances successful ones, to rob people passing. On Monday night three men came from the direction of the old barn, and attempted to engage in conversation a gentleman named Barnett, but he, not wishing to come in close connection with them, gave way, they pursued him, but he, having a wealth of limb, outdistanced and thus escaped them. On Tuesday night they attacked another man whose name we could not learn, and succeeded in getting all he had, and left him badly beaten up. On Wednesday night as a gentleman named Thomas was passing the aforesaid locality, he was set upon, garroted, his pockets rifled, and fifty-seven dollars taken from him. We direct the attention of the police to this neighborhood, and would merely say that the arrest of these miscreants would be a good day's work for all the detectives.

THANKS.—I hereby return my sincere thanks to the firemen, police, and citizens generally, for the efficient service they rendered me on the night of the 7th instant, when my house was consumed. I cannot make any distinction where all did so much and exhibited such a desire to aid me. The ladies, especially, have my warmest thanks, for their efforts were indeed extraordinary. The kind offers of the citizens, en masse, to give me a home, will long be remembered.

MURDER.

A Negro Woman Cuts Her Two Children to Pieces.

Horrible Atrocity of the Inhuman Deed.

On last Tuesday night one of the most revolting deeds in the annals of crime was perpetrated about four miles from Grenada, Mississippi. A negro woman, about thirty years of age, named Susan Jones, living on the place of Mr. Samuel Berry, coolly and deliberately murdered her two children, one aged seven years and the other four. The appearance of the children when discovered was most horrible. The oldest was lying in one corner of the room, with its throat cut from ear to ear, weltering in a pool of its own blood, its black features almost hidden by the crimson tide which had suffused them. The other was found about midway of the cabin, literally ripped open from the pelvis to the breast bone, and its entrails covering the floor in the neighborhood. The inhuman mother, when arrested for the horrible deed, stated that a freedman named James Oliver, who had been in the neighborhood, working on the railroad, had committed the deed. Her story being disconnected and Oliver not having been seen in the neighborhood lately, threw discredit upon her tale, and she was taken into custody. A jury of inquest was summond, who went into an investigation of the deed. One of the jurymen in a confident manner, and in a way which left an impression on her mind that her guilt had been discovered, asked her where she had hidden the knife with which she had committed the deed. The consciousness of her guilt immediately flashed to her face, and after some attempts at evasion, she took him to a fence corner, about 300 yards from the house, and from a pile of weeds, she produced a large bowie knife, all besmeared with blood, which beyond all doubt was the instrument used in the unnatural crime. The jury returned a verdict of murder against her, and she was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury. Comment is almost unnecessary. This is one of the people whom the Radical fortune hunters would place in domination over the South. Time was when no such crimes were known in our land, but now, under the auspices of Radical New England rule, it will take but a few years to make us the equal of Massachusetts in that respect.

A TERRIBLE AFFRAY.

A Man's Eyes Gouged Out in a Cell.

Officers Wren and McGuire, engaged at the county jail, on Wednesday night, arrested a well known burglar, named Jimmy Burns, while endeavoring to break into the show-window of H. G. Dent & Co.'s dry goods store, and took him to the Central station house, where he was placed in a cell. As soon as he was confined there he discovered that in the cell besides himself was another inmate, named McCarthy. He aroused him, and commenced a brutal assault upon him, and before McCarthy could recover from the assault, Burns had nearly choked him into a state of insensibility. Maddened, and rendered desperate with pain, he in turn fell upon Burns, knocked him down, and most unmercifully beat him. The desperate struggle, in the dark, was only terminated by the entrance of the guards. A light being brought, Burns' face was found bathed in blood, which streamed down his cheeks. Upon examination it was discovered that both of his eyes had been forced from their sockets, one of them hanging by the skin on his cheek. He presented a shocking appearance, and was suffering the utmost agony. His antagonist, aside from the marks made on his neck by Burns' fingers, showed no marks of injury. A conveyance was procured and Burns removed to the hospital.

RIVER NEWS.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, January 10.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather cold. The river continues rising at the rate of a foot every twenty-four hours. The Ohio is rising at Cincinnati and Louisville, with fourteen feet in the canal. Cumberland, Tennessee and Wabash rivers are contributing quite freely, and if we have another rise from head waters, which is anticipated, we may look for both the Ohio and Mississippi to be over their banks. White river is rising slowly, with eight feet in the channel. The Arkansas was falling at Little Rock yesterday, with thirty-four inches in the channel. At St. Louis the river is stationary, with six feet out to Cairo, the weather extremely cold, and light ice forming.

ARRIVALS.

Steamer Mary McDonald, New Orleans.
" St. Charles, New Orleans.
" Louisiana, New Orleans.
" Vicksburg, New Orleans.
" Tempest, White river.
" Kate Hart, Cairo.

DEPARTURES.

Steamer Peerless, Cincinnati.
" St. Charles, Louisville.
" Tempest, Louisville.
" Mary McDonald, St. Louis.
" Louisiana, St. Louis.
" Florence Traber, Little Rock.
" Kate Hart, Cairo.

IN PORT.

Vicksburg, Natoma.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf was exceedingly dull yesterday, with but one or two boats in port receiving and discharging. Cotton shipments for the week have been light, owing to the decline of prices and inclement weather.

At St. Louis, on Tuesday, business was dull, with freights scarce and rates nominal, and boats hunting winter quarters.

At Cincinnati freights were scarce, with little or no business doing, and rates of freight ruled ruinously low.

The St. Charles passed up Wednesday night, on one wheel, having broke a crank below Vicksburg.

Mr. Good, the newly elected Wharfmaster, assumed the duties of his office yesterday. Mr. Good will make a very efficient and competent officer.

The mammoth low pressure steamer Richmond, in command of Captain Stut Neal, will arrive this morning from New Orleans, and leave at five p.m. for Cairo, Evansville and Louisville. The Richmond is unequalled in fare, speed and comfort. Those wishing a pleasant and safe trip up the Ohio will do well to take passage on this palatial steamer. Her accommodations will vie with the finest hotels of the country. Captain Wolfolk, a clever gentleman, presides in the office.

The Des Arc, Captain John Elliott, will be in port this morning to receive for White river, and will leave to-morrow at five p.m.

The Peerless left for Cincinnati at seven p.m., with 1,050 bales of cotton.

The Mary McDonald passed up last evening for St. Louis.

The Florence Traber cleared for Little Rock, and the Kate Hart for Cairo.

A new boat, named the Belle of Alton, building at Louisville for the St. Louis and Alton trade, was launched on Tuesday.

The Richmond is due from New Orleans, bound for Louisville, with a good trip, including 200 head of Texas cattle.

The superb United States mail packet Liberty No. 2 will be found in port this morning, to receive for all points on White river, and will leave to-morrow at five p.m., her regular day.

The Tempest arrived from White river yesterday morning, with 400 bales of cotton. She added a small list of cotton here, and cleared for Louisville at five p.m.

The Silver Moon left Cincinnati for Memphis Tuesday evening, and will be in port to-morrow.

The Nick Longworth and Southerner are due from the Ohio.

The splendid passenger steamer Mayflower, Captain Josh Throop, will be in port this morning, to receive for Cairo and Evansville, and leave at five p.m. She has superior passenger accommodations. William Dunn, Duke Nicholson and Mr. Throop, a trio of clever gentlemen, are her clerks.

The Vicksburg, Captain Brooks, arrived from New Orleans last evening. She is receiving for a return trip, and leaves on Saturday at five p.m.

The Meinotte is due from New Orleans, en route for Cincinnati.

The new steamer Belle Lee will leave Louisville on Saturday evening for New Orleans.

The Louisville will leave for Louisville to-day at twelve m.

The Louisville Courier of the 8th says:

The river was rising very rapidly yesterday all day, with fourteen feet water in the canal, by the mark, at dark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had risen four feet, or two inches per hour, at the head of the falls—a remarkable rise—and four inches per hour at Portland, the foot of the falls. The weather was disagreeable and rather stormy, with rain and sleet at intervals, and the temperature at the freezing point—thirty-two. On the falls, last evening, there were fully ten feet steamboat water down either chute, and all the bridge piers across the middle and Indian chute under water. The wreck of the T. D. Horner on the falls has been abandoned, and it was thought last evening that the rapidly rising river would carry the hull over the top of the pier, and that it would turn bottom up. A portion of the machinery, including the doctor engine, had been removed. Corn is being shipped from New Albany direct to Liverpool, via Jeffersonville railroad, and its connections, and vessels from New York. The first shipment was made yesterday, and embraced 750 sacks of shelled. The heavy rains of Sunday and Monday were general throughout the interior of the State, and all the rivers are rising. The White Water river, at Gosport, has risen four feet in the past thirteen hours, and the Wabash, at Lafayette, two feet in the same time, and still rising slowly. Rain continued here until this morning, and still cloudy.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday says:

The weather was cold and cloudy yesterday, raining all day and sleeting last night, with the wind from the northwest at six a.m., east of north at noon, and northeast last night. Monongahela, ten feet and rising slowly at Crownsville, and raining, and a big rise expected. Allegheny, two feet, stationery, with prospect of good rise. Pittsburg, six feet by Monongahela marks. Wheeling, ten feet seven inches, falling, and raining all day. Here, the river is full of heavy drift, having risen six feet during the twenty-four hours ending at six o'clock last evening, when it was still rising slowly, with thirty-seven feet in the channel by the Waterworks' mark, and sixty-five feet under the Covington bridge for passing steamers. Kentucky river is high, and rising yesterday at Frankfort at the rate of four inches, and at Lock No. 5 twelve inches per hour.

All you economical housewives who want prints at 12½c; 4-4 bleached domestics, 10c; Canton flannels at 20 cents; towels, crash table cloth, call on M. Kraus & Co., No. 218 Main street. Their great closing out sale still continues.

Gayoso House has reduced board from $4 to $3 per day. See advertisement.

Important to gentlemen who need the following: Shirts, undershirts, drawers, socks, neckties, and a complete stock of furnishing goods. Call at the great closing out sale of the season, where you get them at half price, at M. Kraus & Co.'s, No. 218 Main street, corner of Adams.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, January 10, 1868.

Local finances remain quiet and steady, with no change worthy of note. Money continues to rule scarce, though the market apparently is working easier. Discounts remain firm, and rates of interest unchanged.

Gold at New York opened at 133⅞ and closed at 133¾. The market here was quiet; buying at 132½@134. Silver steady—buying 128@128.

EXCHANGE—Is steady; buying at ¼c off, and selling at par.

CITY SCRIP—Was in good demand, with little offering, and buying rates steadily advancing. Holders were firm, and in some cases asking 45@50c. Brokers were buying at 39@40c, and selling at 41@42c.

POLICE SCRIP—Buying at 60c, and selling at 65c.

COUNTY WARRANTS—Are buying at 65c, and selling at 70c.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
FRIDAY, January 10, 1868.

Business in the general market continues dull. Only a small local trade was doing in plantation supplies. The new year has not brought with it any material relief to the commercial or financial condition of the country, and all interests, manufacturing as well as commercial, are greatly depressed, and money scarce, and credits tottering, with heavy failures reported in Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, as well as New York and other Eastern cities. The system of taxation must be changed, and the intolerable expenses of government reduced to an economical basis, as well as an assurance of the currency to some stability or less fluctuations. A delegation from Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas has laid before the President, and General Howard, of the Freedmen's Bureau, a proposition to reorganize labor in the South, make it self sustaining, and avert the horrors of starvation, with which various sections and these States are threatened. There is a prospect that the executive committees will have plenary powers to provide work for each laborer, white and black, the planters to furnish all things necessary to the cultivation of the land, the negroes to be fed and receive one-fourth of the crops. The Executive Committee will be charged with the task of obtaining the necessary supplies from the North and West, for which they shall give a lien on the crop. Those who refuse to work are to be reported to the Commanding General, who will cause them to labor on the public works. The developments of the passing season produce indisputable evidence of the fact that, under the present forms of labor, with high prices of provisions, and the unsettled condition of political and monetary affairs, the cultivation of cotton has become precarious, if not wholly ruinous. England has grown to be a most dangerous rival of the United States in the production of short cotton, on account of the cheap system of labor in her possessions, and the liberal encouragement given by her to those who raise it. Unless our government should change its policy and foster in all reasonable ways its culture, and unless cheaper labor can be obtained, the future cultivation of short cotton will bankrupt nearly all who have the nerve to try it this year, and risk consequences whatever they may be. It will be found by planters generally that factors will not give accommodation this year that they gave last, because it would be too hazardous to do so. Many of the planters are far behind with the present crop, and are in certainly a pitiable condition, and will need help. They must not allow labor to control capital at pleasure, but insist upon a compromise on middle ground. It will be better in the end for the planter, factor and laborer to drop than to make agreements on too liberal grounds, which they may fail to carry out, and all meet with sad and ruinous disappointment, as was the case with very many last year. Unless they can reduce the price of labor, the planters had better abandon the idea of cotton altogether, and devote their entire energies to cereals, which would pay better in the end. Even in Florida and on the islands where they produce cottons that cannot be competed with by any portion of the globe, we cannot see, from facts we learn daily how they can succeed at the enormous price it costs to produce it. It would be much better for those [illegible] in the large cotton regions to be more careful in contracting for another crop, and not promise anything beyond what could reasonably expect to be able to pay, to reward the laborer sufficiently for his hire, and at the same time realize something for the use of their lands, stock and services rendered by themselves. By all means, let our farmers grow corn, wheat and oats, and raise all necessary provisions.

Mess pork is quiet at $21 50@22 00 ℔ bbl; prime $18 25@19 00; rump, $16 50@17 00. Clear and [illegible] 13¼c; shoulders 10½@11c; clear rib sides, 12@12½c; bulk meats, shoulders, 9@9½c. Cotton.

The market opened dull and quiet yesterday, and prices were weak and nominal. The decline in Liverpool of an ⅛d had a depressing effect on the market here, though holders of middlings were firm and asking full prices; lower grades were nominal. Throughout the day, the demand was limited and sales were light; middling, 13¾@14c; low middling 13⅛@13½c; strict middling, 15c; good middling, 15½@16c; good ordinary, 12@c. The New York market closed dull, with quotations unchanged. Sales for the day, 1,200 bales. The Liverpool market closed dull, with a decline of ⅛d; uplands, 7¼d; Orleans, 7⅝d. Sales, 10,000 bales. The market here closed dull at the following quotations:

Ordinary	[illegible]
Good Ordinary	11 @12
Low Middling	13 @13½
Middling	13¾@14
Strict Middling	14½@15
Good Middling	15½@16

FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & COMPANY

Chemists to His Imperial Highness Prince Napoleon.

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT & CO.'S medicines.

Dr. Leras' (Doctor of Medicine) Liquid Phosphate of Iron.

The newest and most esteemed medicine in cases of CHLOROSIS, PAINS IN THE STOMACH, DIFFICULT DIGESTION, DISMENORRHEA, ANEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY and POORNESS OF BLOOD. It is particularly recommended to regulate the functions of nature, and to all ladies of delicate constitution, as well as to persons suffering under any kind of debility whatsoever. It is the preservative of health per excellence in all warm and relaxing climates.

No More Cod Liver Oil—Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for COD LIVER OIL, and has been found most beneficial in DISEASES OF THE CHEST, SCROFULA, LYMPHATIC DISORDERS, GREEN SICKNESS, MUSCULAR ATONY and LOSS OF APPETITE. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to HUMORS and OBSTRUCTION OF THE GLANDS.

Consumption Cured—Grimault's Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of PHTHISIS and other DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease, and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N. B.—Be sure to see that the signature of GRIMAULT & CO. is affixed to the bottle, as this syrup is liable to imitations.

No More Difficult or Painful Digestion—Dr. Burin du Buisson's (Laureate of the Paris Imperial Academy of Medicine) Digestive Lozenges.

This delicious preparation is always prescribed by the most reputed medical men in France in cases of derangement of the digestive functions, such as GASTRITIS, GASTRALGIA, LONG AND LABORIOUS DIGESTION, wind in the stomach and bowels, EMACIATION, JAUNDICE and COMPLAINTS OF THE LIVER AND LOINS.

Nervous Headaches, Neuralgia, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Instantly Cured by Grimault's Guarana.

This vegetable substance, which grows in the Brazils, has been employed since time immemorial to cure INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS. It has proved of late to be of the greatest service in cases of CHOLERA, as it is a preventive and a cure in cases of Diarrhea.

Ferro Manganic Powder, prepared by Burin du Buisson, approved by the Academy of Medicine in Paris.

A small quantity of this powder in a glass of water is sufficient to obtain instantly an effervescing mineral and gaseous water to be drank at meals, either pure or mixed with wine.

It is a most valuable medicine for persons suffering from Chlorosis, Stomach Aches, and for Ladies suffering from Difficult or Suspended Menstruation. It is especially recommended to persons unable to digest the ordinary medicines containing iron.

This celebrated preparation has the advantage to prevent all tendency to constipation, and to contain a certain portion of manganese, considered by the most eminent medical men as indispensable in every case of treatment by ferruginous medicines.

No More Copaiba and Cubebs—Grimault's Capsules and Liquid Extract of Matico Vegetalis.

Where all other medicines have failed these preparations will always effect a cure. They insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe, recent and chronic cases of private diseases. They are used in the hospitals of Paris by the celebrated Dr. Ricord, and are found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies and copaiba and cubebs. The Injection is used in recent and capsules in the more chronic cases.

THURSDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES.

The Washington Banquet on the Anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans.

Letters from Geo. H. Pendleton, Franklin Pierce, J. Q. Adams and Others.

Riot at Pulaski—Three Men Killed and Five Wounded.

Fears that the Riot will be Renewed.

WASHINGTON, January 9.—At the banquet held here yesterday, the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, letters from prominent statesmen were read. The following is from Mr. Pendleton:

CINCINNATI, Ohio, January 8, 1868.

J. D. Hoover, Esq., Washington, D. C.:

MY DEAR SIR: I regret I cannot participate in your celebration of the 8th instant. It will be an occasion of unusual interest. The attempted Africanization of ten Southern States under false pretenses, the reconstruction of the Union, the utter subversion of the country to accomplish the end; the profligacy and corruption prevailing in many branches of public service, have brought their proper results. The reaction against a revolutionary violence and license of the past few years, has at last commenced its progress, and will be aided by the worthy contemplation of the life and character of Jackson; of his fervent patriotism; of his persistent energy; of his unyielding course of fidelity. He maintained the rights and dignity and equality, and at the same time enforced obedience to the Constitution. It will be well to remember by whom and for what purpose the last battle of the war of 1812 was fought; and side by side with that recollection to place the fact that the State then saved from a foreign foe, is now governed by military power in order to compel its people to adopt a constitution which they do not approve, and establish institutions which they abhor. The retrospect will evoke sympathies and awaken sensibilities in the midst of which we may hope that hatred and bitterness and vengeance will melt away, and that kindness and good will and charity will cement the Union by the ties of interest, affection and contentment, which alone can effectually constitute the United States one people.

Very respectfully,
GEO. H. PENDLETON.

Ex-President Pierce in a letter contrasts the present condition of the country with that when Jackson was President, and particularly the time which is humiliated under the reign of absolutism; says he hopes the day is not remote when the Union shall be restored, and each State standing forth as the equal of every State, with their dignity, equality and rights unimpaired; and thinks he observes marked and cheering indications that the people are rising in their majesty to deliver their country from misrule.

Hon. John Quincy Adams writes as follows to the Banquet Committee:

"There never was a time in our annals when it was more important to awake the dormant sensibilities of natural good will and national fraternity. It cannot be that the generous and magnanimous men of the North can much longer cherish or endure the domination of a vindictive passion or retributive revenge in dealing with their vanquished and bleeding brothers at the South."

He offered as a sentiment the poetry at the end of President Lincoln's inaugural: "The mystic cords of memory, stretching from every battle field and every patriot's grave to every living heart and hearthstone all over the broad land, will yet swell the chorus of the Union, when again touched, as surely they will be, by the better angel of our nature."

Ex-Governor Perry, of South Carolina, says: "The Southern heart is crushed and broken by terrific calamities, social and political, and appeals at this time to every generous and manly feeling of the North. A large portion of the Southern people were opposed to secession, and did all they could to prevent so dire a calamity. They have suffered the destruction of their property, the loss of their homes and the deaths of sons and husbands, and now as a reward for their devotion to the Union are doomed to negro supremacy and the barbarous vices of their former slaves, steeped in ignorance and vice. Self defense and self preservation will force a war of races the most unnatural and horrible that ever desolated the face of the South. The Southern people are powerless and helpless at this time, and their only hope is a returning sense of justice on the part of their Northern and Western brethren. They expect nothing from the present Congress. The leaders of the Radical party have shown themselves insensible to justice, honor and patriotism, and their sole purpose is to perpetuate their own power by the destruction of the Constitution and all principles but rebellion. Liberty is first to be crushed out of the Southern States, and then, with these Africanized, rotten boroughs, they hope to control the white race North. They will hold in their hands twenty-four black Senators and eighty five black members of Congress. Are the Northern people willing to submit to such a government, and be controlled by such an Africanized South? I pray God to avert such a calamity. I have not yet lost hope and faith in the North, the East and the West."

NEW YORK, January 9.—A Nashville special to the Herald states that a riot between the whites and blacks occurred in Pulaski on the evening of the 7th, resulting in the killing of two negroes and one white man, and the wounding of five negroes. It is feared the riot will be renewed.

NEW YORK, January 9—Noon.—Gold opened at 135¾; at 10:20 a m it was at 136⅛; at 10:50 a.m., 135⅞; and is now 136⅜. Cotton market dull and prices unchanged. Exchange steady—10⅛@10¾.

TENNESSEE ITEMS.

Bedford county is waking up on the subject of immigration.

The Christmas and New Year holidays passed off quietly throughout the State.

There were 567 marriage licenses issued in Rutherford county during the year 1867.

All the prisoners in the Roane county jail escaped one night last week, through a hole in the wall, which they made for the purpose.

A new paper, the Herald, has been started at Union City, West Tennessee. It is neatly printed and conducted with good taste and judgment. We trust it may prosper.

From the Lebanon Herald and Register of the 4th instant we learn that three hundred and fifty marriage licenses were issued in Wilson county last year.

The Shelbyville Union says that the recent snow did great damage to the timber in Bedford county. The continued breaking and falling of branches from the trees rendered it unsafe to go into the forests.

The first act of the new Commissioners of Sumner county was to appoint the Commissioner of Registration, McKinley, County Attorney. Being a member of the Legislature, it is probable the affairs of the county were taken out of the hands of the magistrates for this purpose.

The negroes near Green Hill, in Sumner county, under the manipulations of the Leaguers in that neighborhood, refuse to apply for situations for the ensuing year. They say they will wait for the white folks to apply to them, when they will get better offers. The farmers in that section are not going to raise much cotton this year, and many of the negroes will get pretty hungry before they are applied to.

A negro came up to a prominent lawyer of Gallatin, some days ago, and tendered him a fee of twenty dollars, remarking at the same time that he understood that he was a great friend of the negroes, and that he wanted him to "sue somebody," and get him a horse; that he had no horse, and wanted one. The negro was clearly in earnest, and the incident is a fair illustration of the condition of morality and justice possessed by his race.

The Murfreesboro Monitor, of the 4th, has the following:

We learn that an appropriation of $100 was allowed by the old board of "city dads" to defray the expenses of the Legislative-college-excursion-disfranchising-negro elevating committee who visited our borough recently. It was passed on a tie vote, Messrs. Lane, Winston and Collier voting against, and Messrs. Graham, Kimbro and Singleton voting for it, the Mayor giving the deciding vote. The bill was extremely moderate for a temperance dinner.

We learn that there were three smoke houses broken open in the suburbs of the city on Thursday night, and a small supply of rations stolen. The everlasting song of "free, Lord, free," with a clean dish of freedom, may do very well "to rally around the flag" with, but it will not satisfy a craving appetite or fill an empty stomach.

MISSISSIPPI ITEMS.

The body of a mulatto infant was found buried in a candle box at Vicksburg, last Thursday.

At the fire Tuesday night at Vicksburg, an unknown white man was knocked down and fatally stabbed.

Last week a wholesale raid was made in Wilkinson county, and over one hundred head of cattle, selected from the herds of different planters, were carried off and secreted. Armed parties have been scouring the country in pursuit of the thieves, but without success.

The Aberdeen Examiner, of Saturday, says: "A few days since a little son of Mr. Bean, who resides near this city, after a severe illness, died to all appearance. Two young ladies and a servant volunteered to keep watch during the night. At about twelve o'clock the servant was noticed to be asleep, when one of the young ladies pricked her with a pin, which caused her to suddenly jump and scream. This aroused the supposed dead child, alarming the inmates of the room greatly. Upon examination it was found that the child was growing warm, and in a short time it was running about."

A Richmond dispatch says the convention favors paying the national debt. The county court system of Virginia will be remodeled on the plan of the Northern States in lieu of the present magistracy.

ALABAMA ITEMS.

Mr. T. M. Leatherwood, of Greenville, died of consumption Friday.

Mr. Bamburger, of Montgomery, dislocated his arm Friday, by being thrown from his buggy, which ran against a dray.

Mr. F. C. Saurin, of Lowndesboro, who killed Mr. McCall, gave himself up, and his examination was in progress at last accounts.

The Radical mass meeting at Haynesville is said to have comprised only some twenty half starved negroes.

Colonel John Reese, of Chambers county, an undisguised Union man throughout the war, is opposed to the new Constitution.

Owing to the condition of Judge Busteed, the United States Court at Montgomery will not be held till about the first of February.

James Heifton and Zack Gardner, suspected of being concerned in the shooting of David Marks in Clarke county, have been arrested and sent to Mobile for safe keeping.

Lieutenant Wm. Binning, of the 5th Cavalry, died Friday morning in camp, at Montgomery, of typho malarial fever. Mr. Binning rose from the ranks during the war.

A scheme, some time on foot, is made public in the Montgomery Mail, for the consolidation of the Mobile and Great Northern and the Alabama and Florida railroad.

At Montgomery, on Saturday able bodied field hands were hiring themselves at from $50 down to $25 for the year, and boys who last year got $5 a month, were hiring for their food and clothing.

Mr. John Callahan, the undertaker at Montgomery, buried two bodies Saturday, and was at camp preparing for the burial of Lieutenant Binning, when he was struck with apoplexy, and died.

The editor of the Montgomery Mail has a letter of December 29th, from a well known gentleman at Washington, who says: "General Meade is assigned to Pope's district only temporarily. General Rousseau will take command as soon as he returns from the Pacific, which will be in about thirty days."

Colonel Charles T. Pollard, says the Mail, returned Wednesday night from his Northern visit. He was not able to negotiate for any means to assist in carrying on the railroad enterprises in his hands. The people of the North express themselves as unwilling to risk money at the South in such a state of anarchy.

Twenty-four colored citizens of Sumter county say in the Livingston Messenger, that they feel assured that a majority of the colored voters are dissatisfied with the nomination of Tobias Lane, a comparative stranger, for Probate Judge, over Judge James A. Abrahams, the present incumbent, and announce him as a candidate for re-election.

The Selma Messenger of Saturday says: A commissioned officer and guard brought up four men from Camden, who were suspected of complicity in the killing of a freedman near there a few days ago. These men were tried by the civil authorities of Wilcox county and acquitted. On their arrival here they were released, whether finally or on parole we did not learn. Anderson, who did the shooting in the case, made his escape before the arrival of the detachment of soldiers sent to investigate the affair.

The Tallapoosian says: "At Newshe, in this county, one night last week, at a party, or dance, a young man by the name of Boon made some remark casting reflections on the good name of a young man by the name of Jones. Jones waited until the dance was over, when he called Boon to one side and stabbed him to the heart. Boon, as soon as the blow was struck, stagered back a few paces, and perceiving he was cut, pulled out his knife and cut Jones severely in several places. Boon died almost instantly after cutting Jones, and Jones died during the night from the effect of his wounds."

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE
NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than
McGIMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.
It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and piles. Dandruff is removed from the head, the teeth whitened and cleansed, plate and jewelry cleaned, stains effectually removed from carpets, furniture, clothes, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known soap which will wash flannels with the ease of cotton or linen without fulling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin or the most delicate fabric. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and which is so innocuous and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has become a necessity in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the South, and eventually will extend over the Yankee States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. P. McGIMSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can soon be found at any respectable family grocery or drug store. The proprietor is determined that its manufacture shall keep pace with the rapidly extending demand for its use.

DOMINION OF CANADA
Province of Ontario,
TEELEE ISLAND, LAKE ERIE
Grape Lands, Stone Quarries, Building Sites, etc., for Sale.
TEELEE ISLAND is situated on the west end of Lake Erie, at the extreme southern point of the Province of Ontario, about eight miles from the celebrated grape islands of Ohio, viz.: Kelly's and the Put I -Bay Group. Teelee Island contains about six thousand acres of arable land, and a large portion of this is now offered for sale in quantities to suit purchasers.
Its shores are washed by the blue waters of Lake Erie, filled with the finest Fish, bass, white fish, pickerel, etc.; and whilst the lake affords the choicest sport for the disciple of Walton, it also warms our atmosphere and prolongs our season so that we have a summer as long as Northern Georgia and Tennessee.
Cotton Ripens in the Open Air.
The finest varieties of GRAPES, MELONS, PEACHES, etc., grow to a perfection unknown upon the mainland. We desire more especially to call the attention of the men of the South to this beautiful and fertile island, both because it is in that Canada which gave an asylum and a welcome to many of their number during the late war, and because from that war's disasters abolitionist fanatic now rule the land of their birth, so that it no longer affords them happy or profitable homes. A few Southern gentlemen are already with us, and we wish to form a society of men of the South, who desire at once a peaceful and a lucrative place of residence. Both for climate and soil we are peculiarly adapted for raising the finest varieties of Grapes, and large fortunes are yearly made from this most profitable crop.
Our waters swarm with Fish, our woods with Game, and in Spring and Fall, Ducks, Geese, Snipe, etc., are plentiful.
For Summer Residences,
We offer the finest advantages for health and pleasure combined. A balmy air, the bluest and purest waters for bathing, boating, fishing and all acquatic sports, whilst from the large size of the island, (eight miles long,) there is ample space for horseback riding, etc. For particulars address

Trustee's Sale.

AT the request of the beneficiaries in a deed executed to me by E. S. Plummer, on the 26th day of January, 1867, (and recorded in the Register's office of Shelby county, in book 30, part second, pages 225, 226, 227, for the purpose of securing a debt due to the Franklin Insurance Company, I shall,

On Monday, the 13th instant, at 12 m.,

Proceed to sell at public out-cry, upon the premises, the term of years yet to come and unexpired of the said E. S. Plummer, in a certain Leasehold in the city of Memphis; said lease-hold consisting of a lot with improvements thereon, near the intersection of Washington and Fourth streets, being the same property assigned and set over to the said Plummer, by an indenture from Basilius Lorentz, bearing date the 2d of September, 1861, and of record in the Register's office in book 49, pages 562 563. In this indenture, the premises are described as follows, viz: "Beginning at a stake on the north side of Washington street, thirty-one feet six inches west of John Park's sixty three foot lot, running thence one hundred and fifty feet, more or less, to the alley between Washington street and Poplar; thence eastwardly with the south side of said alley thirty-one feet six inches to John Park's line; thence southwardly with Park's line one hundred and fifty feet, more or less, to Washington street; thence westwardly thirty-one feet six inches to the beginning."

The lease has still more than thirty five years to run. The property is valuable as an investment, having always yielded, as it is now yielding, a remunerative rental.

A New Era in Literature.
MR. FRANK LESLIE, one of the United States Commissioners to the Universal Exposition in Paris, has availed himself of his visit abroad to introduce some new and very interesting features in his popular publications. He has arranged with a number of the leading authors and artists of Europe to furnish NOVELS, NARRATIVES and ENGRAVINGS, which will appear ORIGINALLY in his publications, instead of second hand, or through the stale expedient of what are called Advance sheets, thus practically settling the copyright question by purchasing his literary material at first hand. This is a bold movement, and will prove to be a remunerative one, since "Honesty is the best policy." The first of these novelties is
